Sherman High School — Sherman, Texas

The staff of the 1975 Athenian takes great pride in presenting this book of memories. It is the result of many hours of work and true dedication. It is our hope that in years to come this yearbook will mean even more to you.

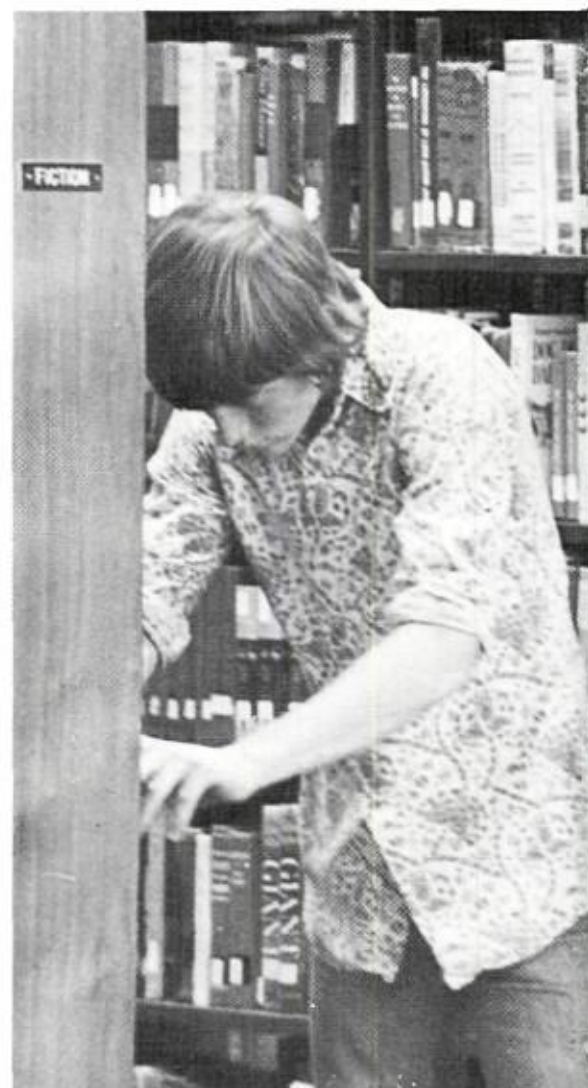

The Athenian has gone through a lot of changes. In the past, the same format has been used repeatedly. The cover might have changed, but everything inside stayed basically the same. So you would not have to judge the book just by its cover, the Athenian, changed from "within." It has been given a whole new "inside," and conformed to give more information, and more insight into the life of the student. Starting with the student, and giving him or her the major role in the book, we came up with a more complete and interesting new yearbook.

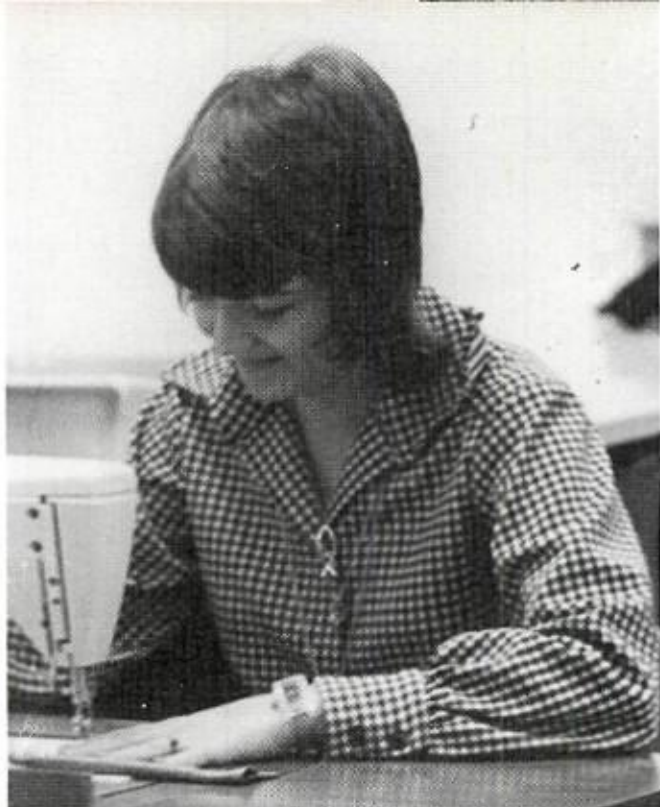

A student's life is featured throughout the book, from the beginning of school, through the turmoil and struggle needed to complete each school day. And it doesn't stop there; that's not enough. A student's life outside school is too often left out, so it, too, has been featured more often throughout the book.

We have tried to include every different facet of life a student experiences, thereby making your book more personalized and individualized.

It will still capture moments that are too soon forgotten, but more important it will give the student a true and unforgettable picture of himself, and an "insight" into his way of life at SHS.

So with pride, we give you the 1975 Sherman High School Athenian.

GOOD MORNING

With the early morning hours comes the rush of getting dressed, a quick breakfast, a trip to the store, the last minute cramming for class, a trip to the counselor's office, getting involved in classes, waiting for the lunch bell, or just organizing for the completion of the day.

Usually these places are filled with noise, confusion, laughter, and people. They hold about 2,000 students each day, but not all at the same time. They have seen the student come, grow, and leave for four year's now. Each year student's leave something or change something about them.

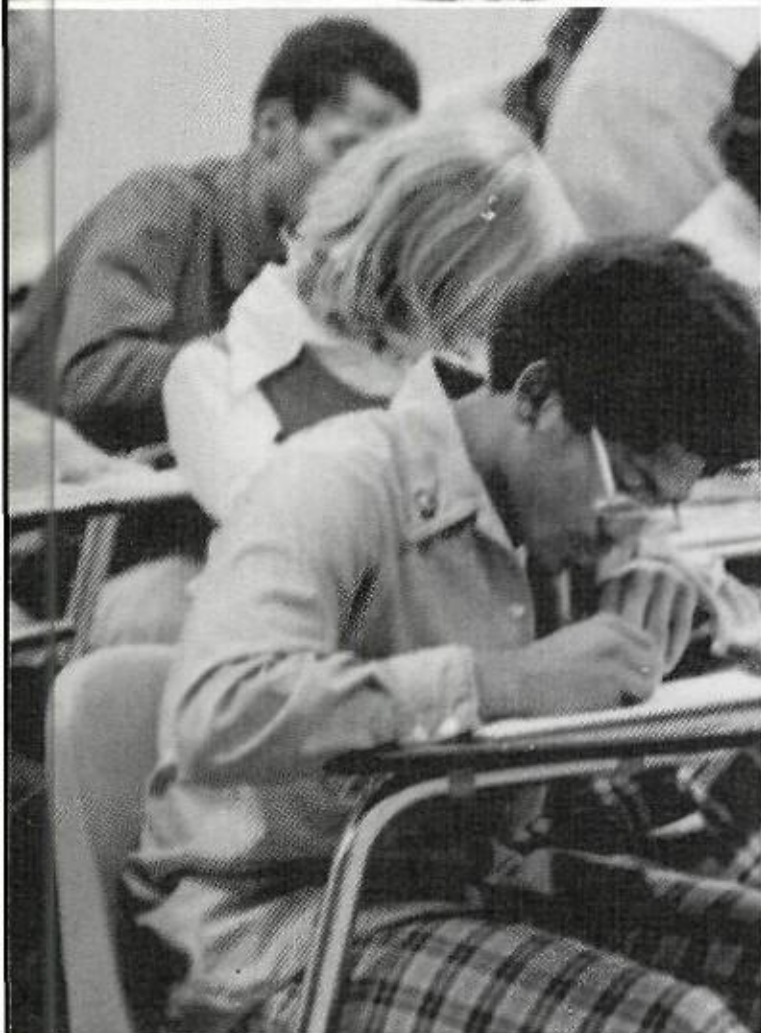

Whatever these pictures may look like to you, it is still your school, and these places will be echoing your presence throughout eternity.

Today's people are creative and because of the energy crisis they must find other ways to get around. Even the most basic means of transportation are being used. So get out that old pair of tennis shoes and Keep on Truckin'

STYLIN' . . .

Complicated and stereotyped fashion is gone, but with its leaving was born a totally new way of stylin'. This new stylin' was not born among the fashion designer's of the world, but from the people, "Now People." Clothes today express an individual's wish to be himself. They express this idea on their clothes by embroidery, applique, or patches. "Now People," are trying to tell the world who they are, what they are, and what they're trying to be.

One of the most important inventions of man has been the discovery of the use of words. Without this communication we would be on little more than an animal level, for it is this very communication with each other that has brought about a reverence for life, for all life, and for "an understanding of the human heart," of which Faulkner spoke.

It is this very use of words — both spoken and written, both our own and those of the great in literature — which is the concern of the English department. It is also this knowledge of the correct use of the word that will give depth to your thinking, courage for your actions, and understanding of yourselves and of your fellow students.

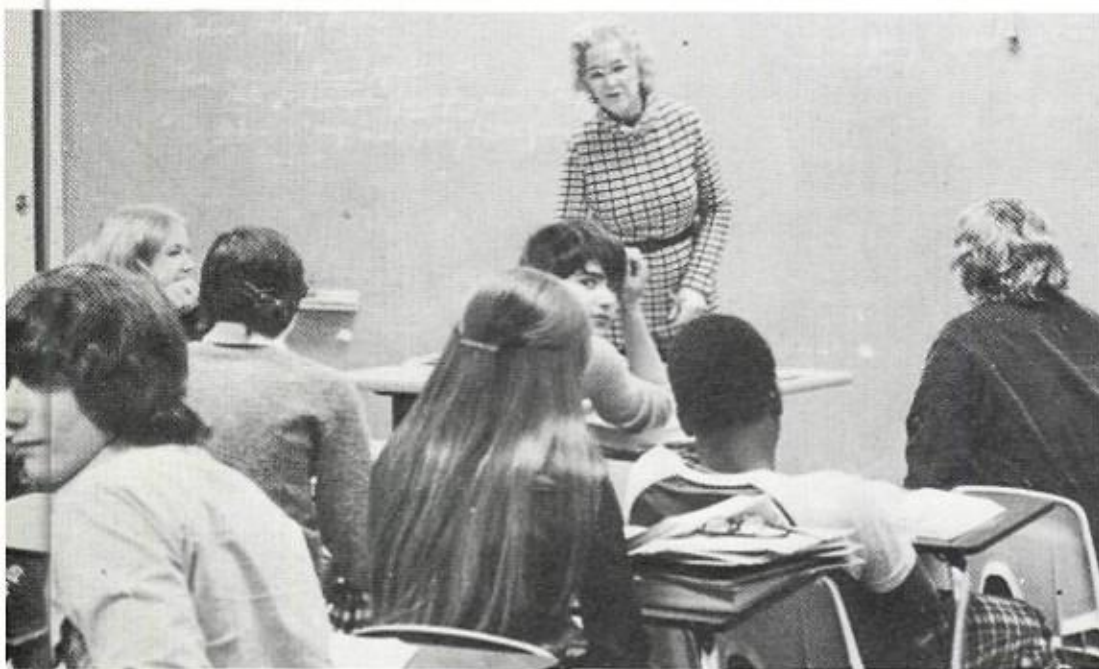

You have only as many ideas as you have words with which to express those ideas. It is not enough barely to communicate with your fellow man; a savage can do this. It is necessary today that you do more: use your language proudly and correctly. Only then do you express your best selves. This is what the study of English is all about! It is not always fun, but if you choose to make it so, it is always rewarding.

Journalism Beneficial Subject

Journalism is a profitable and beneficial subject that each student would appreciate. It teaches the student and equips him with the ability to better understand his writing and speaking.

Often the journalism student must act as a representative in selling products, such as ads for the paper and yearbook. Therefore, he must be able to sell himself, have the ability to speak to a customer, and be influential in the customer's choice.

In Journalism, one learns everything there is to know about writing, how to put together a news story, how to produce a column, write an editorial, feature story, how to color up a story, and much more.

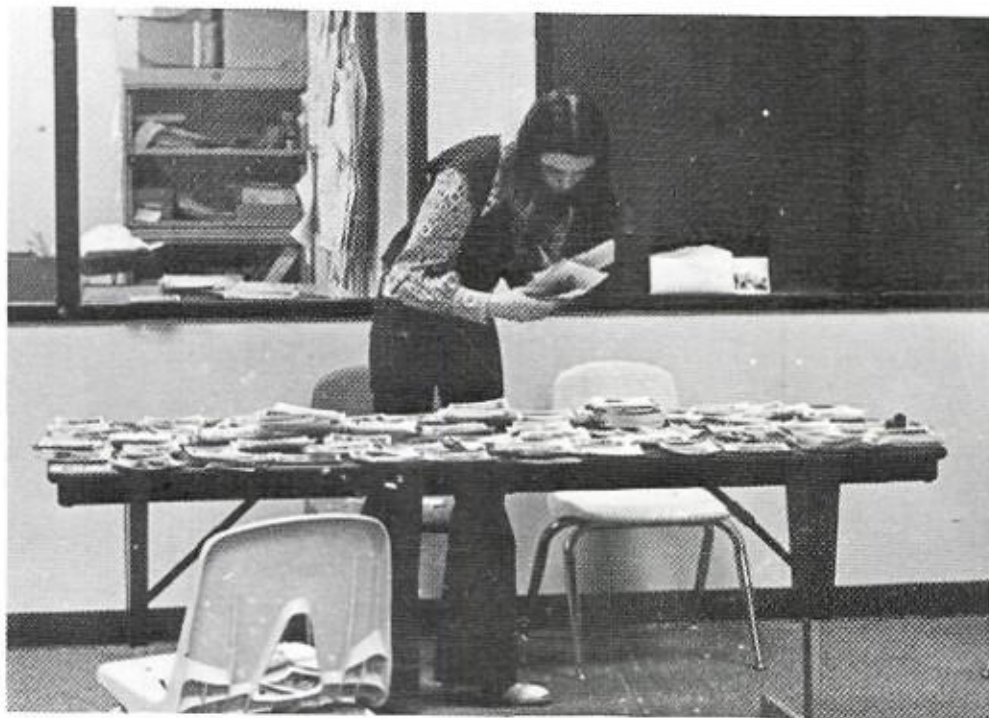

Your vocabulary is increased a great deal when in journalism, which is always beneficial. Your terminology is something people are attracted to in a first appearance.

Learning how to work with people and how to cope with them will help you throughout your life. Journalism is a course with this in mind.

Spanish Integral Part of Culture

Today's world brings together people of many languages and many races. If these are to live peacefully together, they must be able to communicate with each other. In the southwestern United States there are many Spanish-speaking people who form an integral part of the culture of the area. Most of these are bi-lingual. As much cannot be said of their English-speaking neighbors. To the south of the United States the majority of the people speak Spanish. It ranks third among the languages of the world after Chinese and English in number of native speakers.

Mastering any foreign language requires study and the active participation of the learner. It also pays enormous dividends in an increased understanding of the people who speak that language — their problems, their achievements, and their culture. A few words of Spanish, however haltingly spoken, are a passport to increased goodwill toward the American traveler and the country he represents.

Students use language lab as aid in Spanish class.

Sharon Johnson uses language lab to answer Spanish questions.

Latin Enables Students to Gain Appreciation of the Ancient World

The purpose of teaching Latin at Sherman High is twofold: to enable students to understand the language and to give them an appreciation of the Ancient World.

The value of the study of the Latin language has been a much discussed topic. Suffice it to say that it is of immense value to the students of languages (especially the Romance languages), in the development of vocabulary and in the enriched appreciation of literature both classical and modern.

It has also been the aim of Latin to provide a greater appreciation of the ancient civilizations through the study of events and personalities and their influences evident in our world today.

Skits Aid French Students in Learning New Language

The student who elects to study French learns to communicate with other people through a language other than his native tongue. The French student has two learning centers at his disposal; the classroom and language lab aid the student in perfecting his listening and speaking skills.

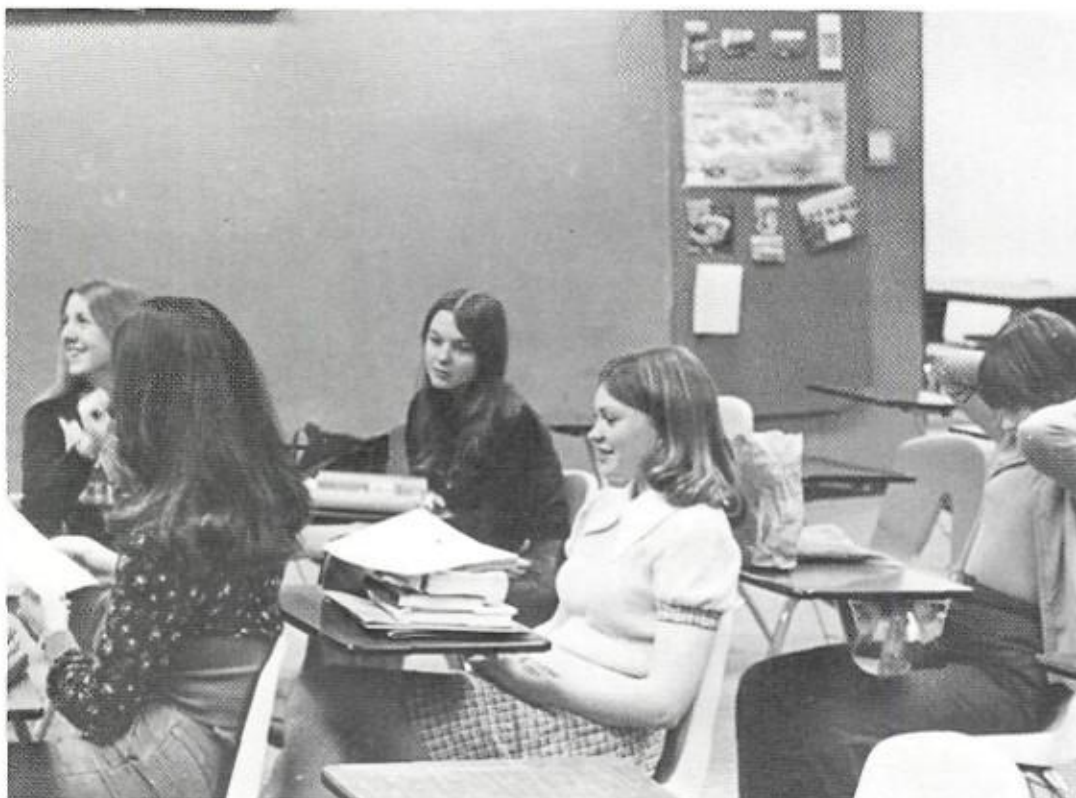

But just learning the language is not enough. The student must come to an "understanding" with the French language. This is accomplished through studies of the French culture, its customs, history, government, and literature, and short trips to the country by means of movies and slides to view the countryside and its people. The French student actually practices his new language by participating in classroom skits and plays. He can share his interest in the French language and culture with others.

Development of the ability to solve problems is probably the most important aspect of one's education. Interpreted broadly, this ability can help people make choices that determine their complete life-style. Therefore, it is essential that students in our schools learn to sort out, assimilate, and select data that will enable them to make choices appropriate to them and that will enhance their relationships to others. For the mathematics teacher this means that all students should be given the opportunity to engage in problem-solving situations requiring them to interpret, evaluate, and generalize from data within some logical framework.

Mathematics is supportive to most preparation programs, and it is the central theme of the rest. Students should have the opportunity to determine the level of mathematics required for a selected career. They should have the opportunity to develop the necessary mathematical skills and concepts necessary for application in other subject areas such as industrial arts, chemistry, business, and agriculture. Mathematical concepts relate strongly with vocational activities. Our mathematics programs are responsible for establishing a foundation of mathematical skills and concepts necessary to function in our society.

Science Department Focuses on Today's World

Science is a new course focusing on today's world. There are countless opportunities for the science student to find a place in today's world. New careers in the science field are opening every day.

The Science Department at Sherman High is concerned with preparing the student for a career in any science field, touching and dwelling on the broad concepts of biology, chemistry, and physics.

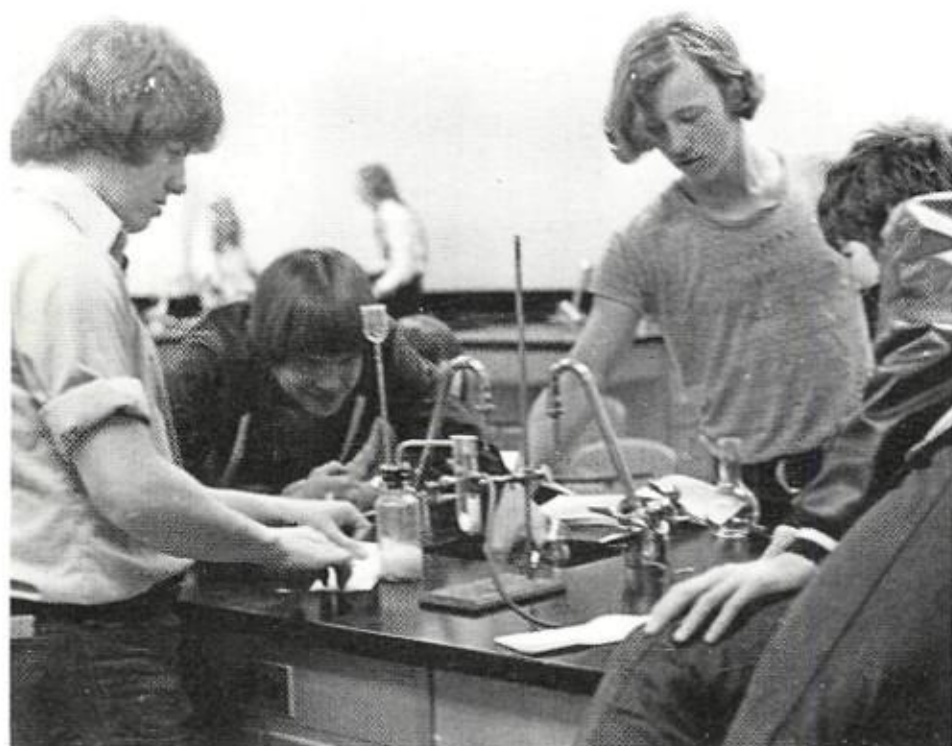

Outstanding in the program are the laboratory assignments. The student is able to see science at work and can better comprehend what is trying to be explained. Science isn't all paperwork; it can be fun.

Business Education Vital to Modern World

Business education is worthwhile for any student interested in a business-related field of employment. It prepares students for life in the outside world that will soon be opening up for them. Through the course, the student becomes proficient both in knowledge and performance of the aspects of the business field.

Business relationships, techniques, attitudes, and knowledge are all necessary for an individual to understand and be able to successfully adjust himself to this important social institution. Business education is equally important for the consumer as it is for the producer. It is a give and take field where knowing the right thing to do or say can determine the relationship between consumer and producer.

Business is vital to our modern world. It is the backbone of America.

Helping an individual live a satisfying and useful life is the basic goal we are trying to reach.

Participation in preparation for a professional career in the home economics area is encouraged, but for any career you choose to pursue, your background in homemaking will be beneficial. You can draw on it for the rest of your life. It prepares you to meet the world.

Social Studies Teaches Responsibility, Competence

The Social Studies Department of Sherman Senior High School offers: World Geography, World History, American History, Psychology, Sociology, Social Problems, Economics and American Government. A candidate for graduation must take World Geography or World History, American History, and American Government. He may elect any of the other areas.

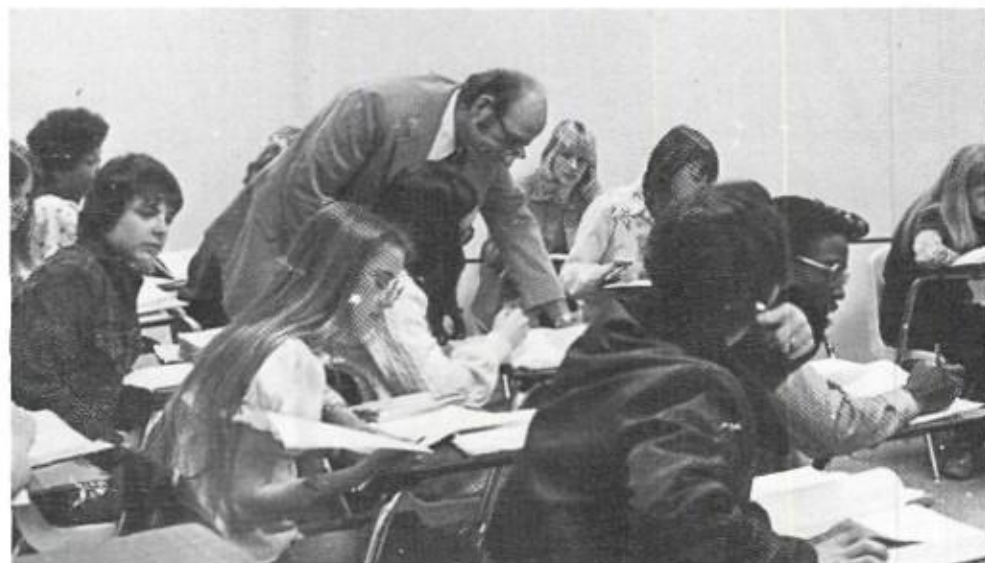

The teachers in the Social Studies Department believe in the worth of the individual along with emphasis upon social competence. We are concerned with helping young men and women to establish desirable, happy personal and social relationships with both their age-mates and adults, to develop a value pattern which will give direction and purpose to their lives, and to achieve the competence necessary to make a positive and worthwhile contribution to society.

We strive to develop competent citizens who are interested in and concerned about significant social, political, and economic problems; who analyze and evaluate all evidence pertinent to an understanding of a problem before reaching a decision; and who, having drawn a conclusion, act upon it within the limits of their ability and opportunity.

We believe that a competent citizen is concerned about the welfare of others, acts with consideration of others, assumes responsibility for his share of group activities, uses his talents for social good, and does not speak disparagingly of others.

Art Provides Expression

Art is important in providing students with an opportunity to express their feelings — visually, perceptively, personally — as they learn to see, to explore, and to respond to their world in an intelligent, sensitive, and creative way.

Art is all around us, in the dainty lacework of a spider's web or a morning after the first frost. Art is anything you find beautiful or inspirational. Art is you involved in your world.

music/contests/band/choir/soloists

The Music Department is a vital part of Sherman High School. In it, students experience the joy of making music, discover and develop their own musical talent, and learn to understand and love music.

Even those students and faculty at SHS not involved in the Music Department derive a great deal of enjoyment from their performances all through the year. What would the school year be like without the many choir and band concerts? What would the football games and pep rallies be like without the band? Can you imagine Christmas without a song from the choir?

Opportunities are open for students with either vocal or instrumental talent. Mr. Duane Gohlke directs the Advanced Mixed, Intermediate Mixed, and Advanced Girls' Choirs. Select students from these choirs find more expression for their talent in the musical group Frenz and Patches.

In the fall, students with instrumental talent find places in the Maroon Marching Machine under the direction of Mr. John Parnell. After marching season, the band members divide up into Symphonic and Concert Bands. The Stage Band and Woodwind Choir are opportunities for the top players to experience more music.

Students interested in learning more about music may take the Music Theory class.

In all its aspects, music at SHS provides enjoyment and satisfaction.

Productions Backbone of Drama Department

Drama is a combination of theory, practice, and production. A production can be compared to a rough piece of wood which is worked, cut, and polished to a fine piece of furniture. On opening night, all the hard work and effort becomes worthwhile.

In class, Drama I and II students concentrate mainly on cultivations and bringing out their creative powers. Voice, body movement, staging techniques, characterization, and other aspects of a production are worked upon. In addition, there is an intense study of the history of the theater conducted, beginning with the Greeks and going to the present.

Homecoming, Children's Theater, performing for civic groups, the Fall production, Dinner Theater, and the Spring Musical are only a few of the projects Drama III is involved in.

The productions at S.H.S. are the backbone of the drama program. In these, the student makes the most of his talent, he accomplishes something worthwhile.

A young girl in a quiet southern town is about to experience the dramatic events that will affect the rest of her life. Scout, as she's called, is fascinated by the people of her small town, but she senses a threat under the placid surface of the life there.

The black people of the community have a special feeling about Scout's father and she doesn't know why. A few of her white friends are hostile, and Scout doesn't understand this either. Her father, Atticus, a lawyer, explains that he's defending a young Black wrongfully accused of a grave crime. Scout wants to know why he's taking on such a hopeless fight — the time of the play is 1935 — he tells her, "Simply because we were licked a hundred years before we started is no reason not to try to win. We're fighting our friends. But remember this, no matter how bitter things get, they're still our friends."

Things do get bitter — to the point where Atticus props himself in a chair against the cell door of the man he's defending and confronts an angry mob. Horrified Scout projects herself into this confrontation, and her inconvenient presence helps bring back a little sanity. Atticus fights his legal battle with a result that is part defeat, part triumph. As Atticus comes out of the courthouse, the deeply moved town minister tells Scout, "Stand up. Your father's passing!"

At first the Sycamores seem mad, but it is not long before we realize that if they are mad, the rest of the world is madder. In contrast to these delightful people are the unhappy Kirby's. The plot shows how Tony, attractive young son of the Kirby's, falls in love with Alice Sycamore and brings his parents to dine at the Sycamore home on the wrong evening. The shock sustained by the Kirbys, who invited to eat cheap food, show Alice that marriage with Tony is out of the question. The Sycamores, however, though sympathetic to Alice, find it hard to realize her point of view. Meantime Tony, who knows the Sycamores are right and his own people wrong, will not give her up, and in particular since he happens in during a visit by an ex-Grand Duchess, earning her living as a waitress. No mention has as yet been made of the strange activities of certain members of the household engaged in the manufacture of fireworks; nor of the printing press set up in the parlor; nor of Rheba the maid and her friend Donald; nor of Grandpa's interview with the tax collector when he tells him he doesn't believe in the income tax.

vocational education/health

Realizing the importance in preparing students with valuable skills, Sherman High School maintains a comprehensive vocational training program. Students can choose from a wide variety of courses, including cooperative training programs offering them opportunities for gaining skills.

A goal has been set to provide students with the training and experience needed to make it in today's world. All a student needs is interest and ability.

The vocational program is divided into three general areas: pre-employment lab programs, co-operative programs, and general vocational programs.

The pre-employment lab programs include the following areas of study: Auto mechanics, building trades, cosmetology, drafting trades, metal trades, radio and television repair, television production, office education, and distributive education.

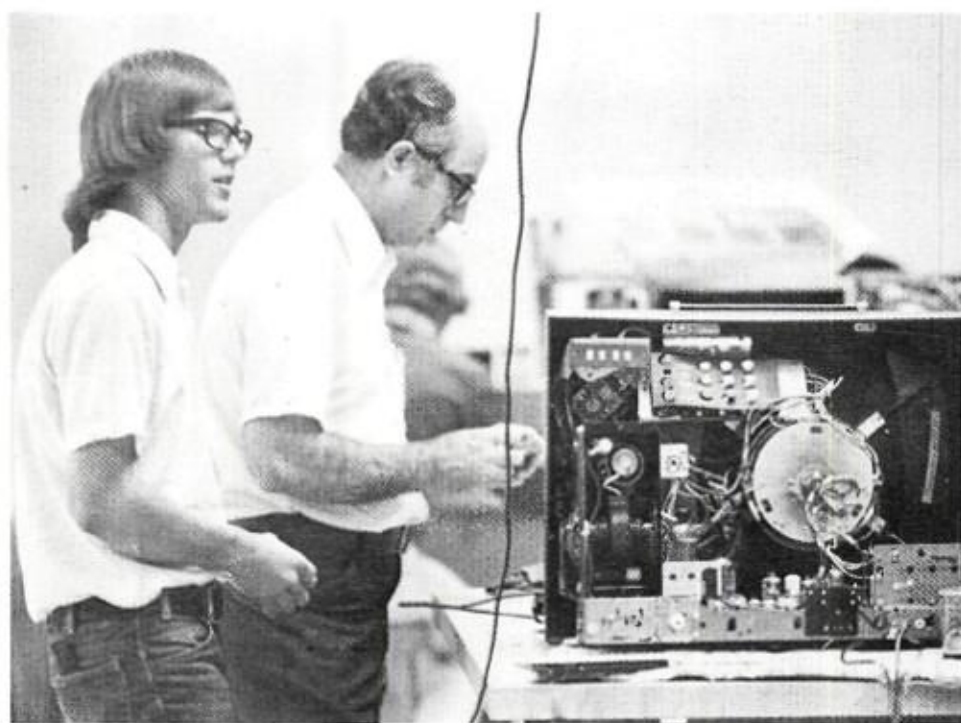

Cooperative training programs offer students opportunities in: agriculture cooperative training, distributive education, health occupations education, home economics cooperative education, industrial cooperative training and vocational office education.

General vocational education is available through classes in useful homemaking and production agriculture.

Sherman High School has served as area vocational school since 1972. As a result, students from many of the high schools in Grayson County have joined us in our pre-employment lab classes, learning skills in areas related to their interest.

Healthy Productive Lives Aim of Physical Education Program

The physical education program at Sherman High School is designed to meet the needs of each student through a program of participation in various physical fitness and recreation activities. The program also includes instructions in skill development which the student may find useful in his adult life, and an emphasis on directing pupils in developing coordination, strength, grace, and poise.

As the student progresses through this program, some goals are expected to be reached. We, as teachers, encourage our students to develop the quality of sportsmanship, the foundation for getting along well with others, which they can obtain only by active participation. Once they grasp this idea, we help them to help themselves in developing and maintaining a physically fit body by participating in activities with their fellow classmates. From this participation we hope the young people will develop the fine qualities of self-discipline, courage, and leadership.

It is impressed upon the students that they should conduct themselves properly whether as spectators at a wild Bearcat game or participants. Respect for the opponents, respect for property, and respect for officials is stressed.

We emphasize the value of education on a long term basis. A healthy, glowing person is fun to be with and around. Physical exercise is one major step in becoming this kind of person.

We want our students to have healthy, productive lives. That is what Physical Education is all about.

Air Force ROTC at Sherman High School strives to develop student awareness and understanding of the military through field trips, drills, demonstrations, and military routine. It offers many advantages for the student interested in the military as a career; such as scholarships and advanced knowledge of the way the military operates. The course is also beneficial for students wishing to gain self-confidence, discipline, and the ability to follow instructions.

Who's Who

Who's Who elections were held in December, with each student nominating students from his class. Scholarship, leadership, dependability, honesty, friendliness, and citizenship were some of the qualities used as criteria for nominations.

Winners were announced in an all-school assembly December 14th.

This election takes the place of friendliest, most beautiful, etc. . . . which used to occur. It was felt that this was fairer and more meaningful.

Homecoming 1974

Homecoming activities at SHS began the week of Oct. 7. Clubs nominated and elected a senior girl to represent their organization. These 26 nominees were presented with their escorts to the student body in a pep rally the following Friday.

During the following week students voted on the five finalists. On Oct. 17, Thursday, a parade was held through downtown Sherman, in which all the nominees were featured. Following the parade, a pep rally was held in the SHS gym. Nominees and escorts were presented and the five finalists were announced. They were: Debby Day (Hi-Steppers), Shirley Richardson (Choir), Sherry Tucker (Drafting), Sharen Kennedy (VICA), and Donneita Falk (FFA).

The next day, students voted on one of the five girls to be crowned queen. At halftime of the Denton-Sherman football game, the finalists were presented to the public with their escorts. The suspenseful climax of an exciting week came when Sherry Tucker was announced Homecoming Queen, 1974. She was escorted by her uncle, Don Noble, and student body president, Randy Lee. Tanya Babin, Homecoming Chairman, presented her with a bouquet of roses and a charm as a memento of the occasion.

Bearcats Compile 3-4 Record in District Play

The 1974 football season for the Sherman Bearcats was a season of ups and downs. For the year, the cat finished 4-6, while compiling 3-4 mark in district play.

L.D. Bell came to Sherman to open the season and left with a 7-0 win. A lack of defensive punch cripple the cats in their quest for victory.

State-power Dallas Carter was the next opponent, the Cowboys shut out Sherman 28-0, at Bearcat Stadium.

The cats got their first win of the season against Dallas Jesuit in Dallas by a score of 13-7. Randy Steven scored both touchdowns, one on a 56-yard. The Jesuit Rangers were no pushover as was proved later in the year when they won the Texas Catholic High School championship.

Sherman traveled to Carrollton the following week to take R. L. Turner Lions in the first district contest for both schools. Turner scored a touchdown in the second and third quarters to coast to a 12-0 win.

Greenville was the next opponent for Sherman, and the underdog Bearcats came through with a 12-0 triumph. Charles Hunt opened the scoring for the cats with a 23-yard field goal. Eddie Wright got into the action next, scrambling 3 yards for a touchdown. Hunt's extra point made it 10-0. Sherman added a safety after Albert Boogie blocked a punt and the ball went launching out of the end zone.

The Homecoming game with Denton turned out to be a heartbreaking loss. Sherman led 7-6 until a fumbled punt enabled the Broncos to go ahead and grab a 21-7 victory. After spotting Denton an early 6-0 lead the Cats drove down and freshman quarterback, Randy Wessinger scored from the one. Charles Hunt's pass put Sherman ahead 7-7 until the Bearcat mistakes were turned into 15 points by the Broncos.

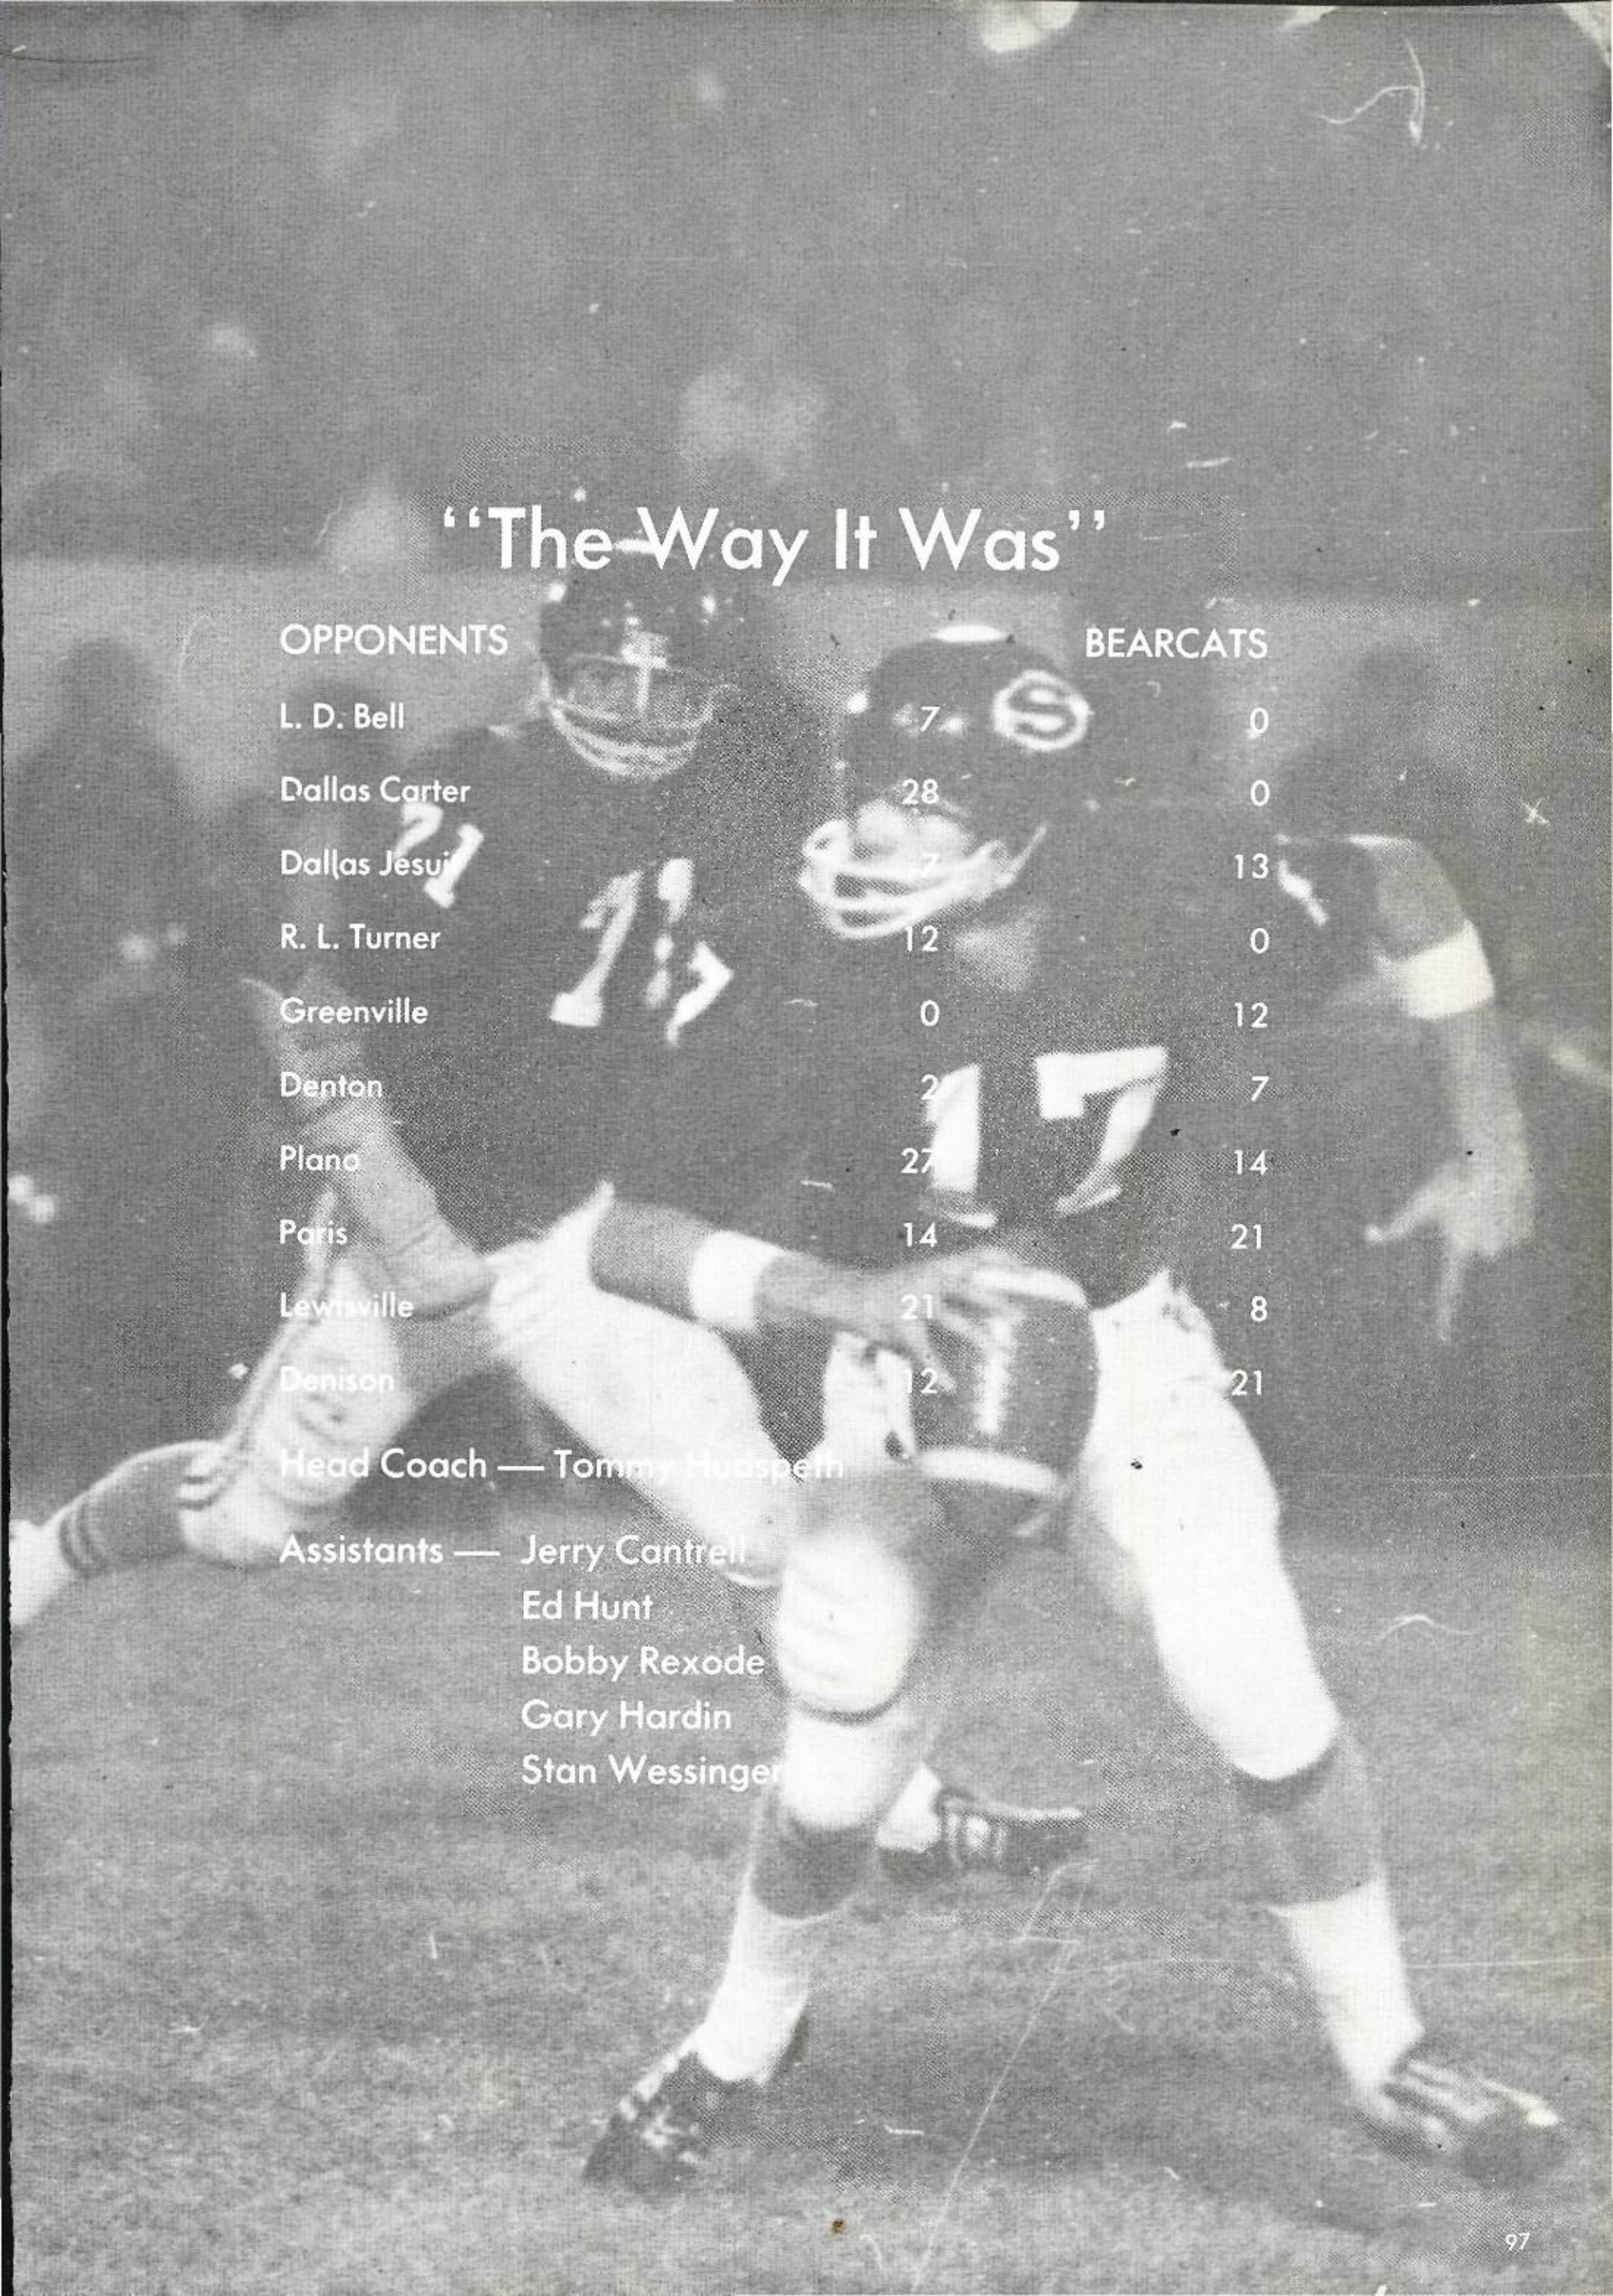

Sherman was at home again the following week, playing host to the Plano Wildcats, who were undefeated and ranked third in the state. In a thrilling contest, the Bearcats (28 point underdogs) took the flight to the powerful Wildcats before losing 27-14. Plano led 7-6 at the half, but the Cats came back in the second to go ahead 14-13 with just 4:33 left in the game. The Wildcats behind the running of Tony Wallis, scored two quick touchdowns to escape with the victory. It was the closest anyone had come all year to kicking off the Wildcats. Marcus Mexia's 6-yard run and Eddy Wright's 2-yard scramble were the scoring plays for Sherman.

The Bearcats then traveled to Paris to face the winless Paris Wildcats. Sherman struggled to a 21-14 win. Eddy Wright ran 29 yards to the first Sherman score at a 20 yard scoring pass from Randy Wessinger to Mark Germany just before the half put the Cats ahead. In the third quarter Bruce Davidson blocked a Wildcat punt and Floyd Rowe fell on it for the touchdown. Paris came back to make it close with a final touchdown.

Lewisville was the Bearcats next opponent, and the Cats were defeated 21-8. Sherman's only score came when quarterback Randy Wessinger connected Mark Germany with a 76 yard touchdown pass. Super running back, Paul Rice scored twice for the Farmers.

The final game for the season matched Denison against Sherman. However, when all was said and done the Bearcats kept the battle ax for another year, winning 28-12. Sherman scored quickly when Wessinger hit Germany with a 35 yard pass. Eddy Wright got the Cats next score on a 2 yard scramble. Marvin Ruffin provided the fireworks next by blocking a punt, picking it up and running it in for the touchdown. Sherman's final point came when Wright ran from the two. The score was set up by 59 scamper by Wessinger. Charles Hunt kicked all four extra points making the final 28-12.

Greenville upset the Cats the following week, taking a 21-6 win. Joe Gurley hit Melvin Eugene for a touchdown and Sherman's only score.

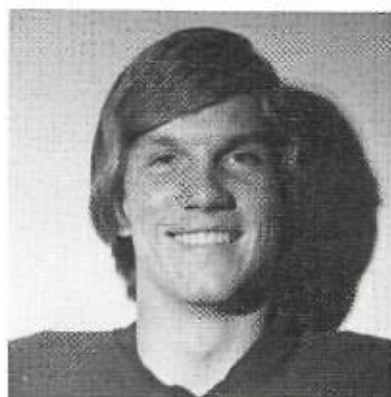

One of the JV's biggest wins came against rival — Denison, 24-19. This gave the Bearcats a second-place finish in district. Richard Bennett returned a kick off 80 yards for a touchdown for the first score. Meet saved on an 11-yard run by Ronald Jackson. Jackson got the next touchdown also on a 6-yard run. Sherman Roundballers Lose Against Some of State's Finest, Finish With a 16-14 Season

The Bearcat Basketball team had a scrambling year as it tried to rebuild and strengthen the loss of 8 seniors from the previous district championship team of 1974. The cats returned only one starter from that team and it was Allen Taylor, who is a junior. The results were 16-wins and 14-losses in the overall season and a respectable 9-5 district record. Although the Cats were not happy with their fourth place finish, they were very competitive, losing to champion plans by two points in a single overtime period. Two close games with R. L. Turner also played a big part in limiting the cats.

The Cats leading scores and rebounds were juniors. Allen Taylor with a 13-point per game average. Allen Taylor with a 13-point per all district team. In the 14 Dallas Times Herald and the Dallas Morning News, Marcus Winder, a senior, honorable mention honors. Juniors Terry Polk played a tough brand of defense. One of the most improved players was Rick Sneed. After a slow start he came on to be one of the team's stabilizers at the end of the year. Randy Cunningham and Mark Morris for helping maintain the Cats' third straight winning season.

Returning men for next year's team are Allen Taylor, John Holt (the team's second leading scores) Ronald McKee, Matt Clark, and sharpshooter Rick Mason. These men give all indications of being capable of carrying on the Bearcat Basketball winning tradition.

Tennis Team Builds on Past Record

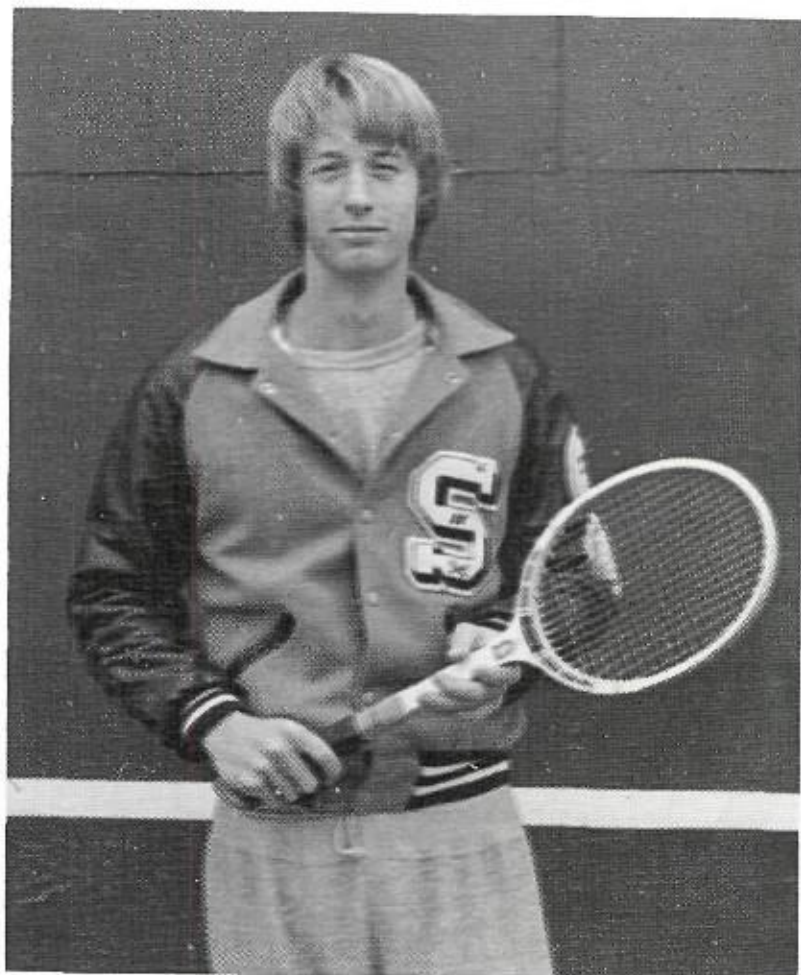

The Bearcat tennis team returned this year to continue building on its past accomplishments. The team under the coaching of Mac Dyer returned five varsity lettermen to competition: John Carlson, Darren Whitehead, Barbara Mischkot, Teresa Mayes, and Leslie Brown. New additions were made to the team with freshmen Steve Horn, Kent Adloft, Jeremy Knight, Mike Pas and sophomore Jay Johnson joining the boys ranks. Joining the girls team were Pam Snipes, Key Ables, Kay Olmstead, and Kim Wagoner.

The team showed a fierce amount of pride as it approached time for the district tournament to be held in Plano. The netters were attempting to win their unprecedented third straight district team title along with other individual titles. The Cat line-up placed John Carlson and Darren Whitehead in doubles, Barbara Mischkot and Teresa Mayes in doubles, Lisa Brown and Pam Snipes in singles and Steve Horn and Kent Adloft in singles.

All finalists in the district tournament advanced to regional competition, with regional finalists advancing to the state playoffs in Austin.

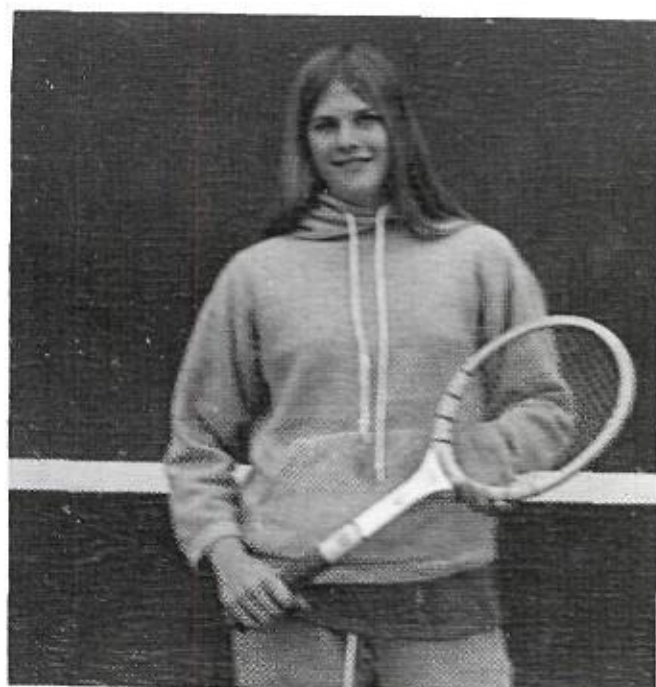

The team can also look forward to another fine season next year as only two seniors face graduation.

Track Team Plagued By Injuries

Track at SHS did relatively well considering the many injuries sustained by several of the runners. Coaches O'Brien and Hunt are looking forward to next year's season and expect to do even better.

Girls track saw its beginning this year under the direction of Miss Jimmie Phillips and Mrs. Emma Jones. Their first year out, the girls showed good effort and promise for next year.

In their own Bearcat Relays, the fellows finished fourth and the girls placed sixth. In the varsity division, Charles Hunt captured the top honors in the shot-put; Glen Whitfield finished third in the 100 and second in the 220. Donald Walters nabbed a third in the 440. Keith Young was second in the 120 high hurdles, and fourth place finishes were made in the 440 relay (Sam Hughes, Doug Nowlin, Donald Walters, and Glen Whitfield) and mile relay (Sam Hughes, Doug Nowlin, Marcus Mexia, and Donald Walters).

In the girls division, Carol Luke placed second in the 220; Donna Taylor, Rita Key, and Rosalind Craver placed third, fourth, and sixth in the 80 yard hurdles. Baseball Has Young, but Determined Team in 1974

BASEBALL

The Bearcat baseball team coached by Gary Hardin entered this year's season with lack of experience, and a lack of pitching depth. Inexperience is definitely a handicap as ten out of the eighteen member squad were underclassmen, five of those being starters. There were only two returning starters for the '75 season.

The Bearcats' strong points this year were Mark Morris, their all district pitcher who was helped by their all-district first baseman David Huntsman. The Bearcats looked forward to a successful season based on the desire and hustle of the younger players coupled with the experience and ability of the Seniors.

Girls Basketball Makes Comeback at SHS

The "Bearkettes", the girls basketball team, was disbanded at the close of the 1969-1970 school year due to lack of interest in the sport.

Twenty-seven girls finished this season as the Bearkettes posted a record of six wins and nine losses. Sophomore Delsie Hawkins scored 230 points in eleven games to lead the scoring; Junior, Charlotta Cantrell added 151 points. Toni Bork also a junior, and Sophomore Carol Everett, led the defense.

Members of the Bearkettes are: Sandra Andrews, Andrea Arnold, Janie Blanton, Sandi Boody, Toni Bork, Leora Brown, Charlotta Cantrell, Rosalind Craven, Carol Everett, Shelia Gilliam, Delsie Hawkins, Donna Huntsman, Rita Key, Ginger Lemons, Carol Litre, Regina Luke, Desi Maynard, Dee Dee Owens, Kari Pratt, Sonia Wilson, Marilyn Jackson, Mgr. Intramurals Offers Competitive Sports

Mrs. Hilda Ramsey's homeroom returns a serve during intramurals.

Competitive sports serve a very important function in any high school. But the opportunity or even the ability to participate in the highly structured and organized world of competitive sports is not practical for most students and/or school systems.

Physical Education classes are offered to all students but even here not every student has an opportunity to participate either because of other conflicting activities or because of the focus of the program with which they are associated.

Intramurals offer a solution to those students who enjoy competition when it is done correctly, on a level not involving other schools. Volleyball by classes or homeroom seems an excellent method by which to improve student enjoyment and unity as a group.

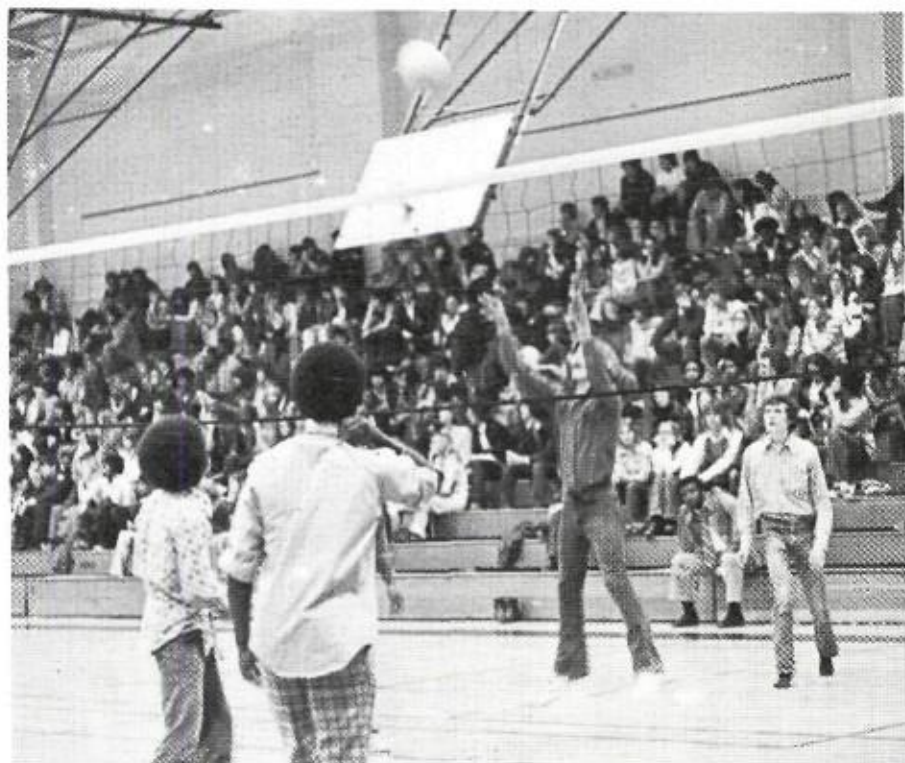

Intramural basketball by organized teams from any class level has proven very successful and is looked forward to each year by participants and fans.

The student who works after school or does not have the professional ability to compete on one level of sports can very easily obtain tremendous benefit from an intramural program as he has an opportunity to compete, to appreciate the skill of the sport, to accept the rules of the officials, to learn the teamwork required for a winning effort.

Activities for an intramural program can be designed to fit the time and participants since it deals only with one school. It is inexpensive yet the end result of a healthy body and a healthy mind may be the best dollar bargain in the education system.

Homerooms take time out for sports activities.

The purpose of JCL is threefold: to gain more thorough knowledge of Roman life, history, and literature; to understand better the practical and cultural value of Latin; and to interest others in the Classical languages.

In order to accomplish these purposes, the SHS JCL has monthly meetings which deal specifically with some facet of classical civilization. Other activities include Latin Week, a Roman banquet, slave sale, first year student initiation and the annual Texas state JCL convention where SHS Latin students compete in academic and non-academic contest with Latin students from other schools in Texas.

JCL students have also been known to enjoy post meeting banquets at such "late Roman" establishments as Pizza Inn, Ken's, and Hobbs Joe's.

Flagbearers

The flagbearer's purpose is to add color to the marching band. Made up of sixteen flagbearers and one alternate, they are an integral part of the band.

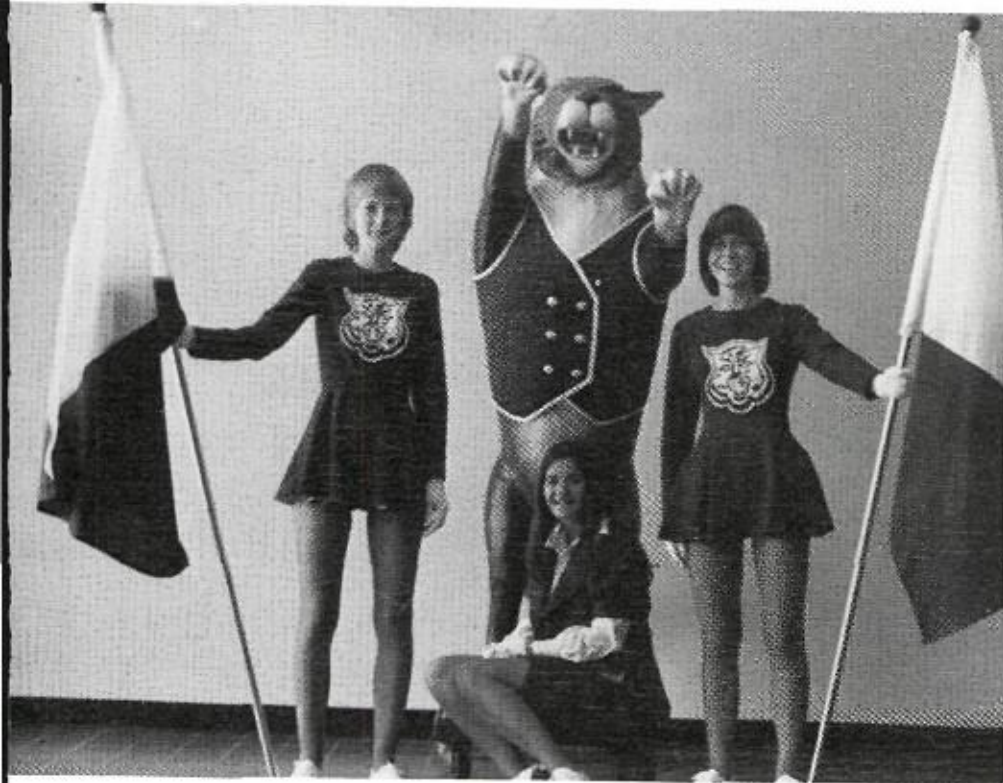

They are chosen by tryouts the previous spring after a two week training period. They are judged on appearance, ability to take instructions, and ability to learn routines quickly.

During marching season, the flagbearers practice every school morning with the band, and also by themselves in the evenings.

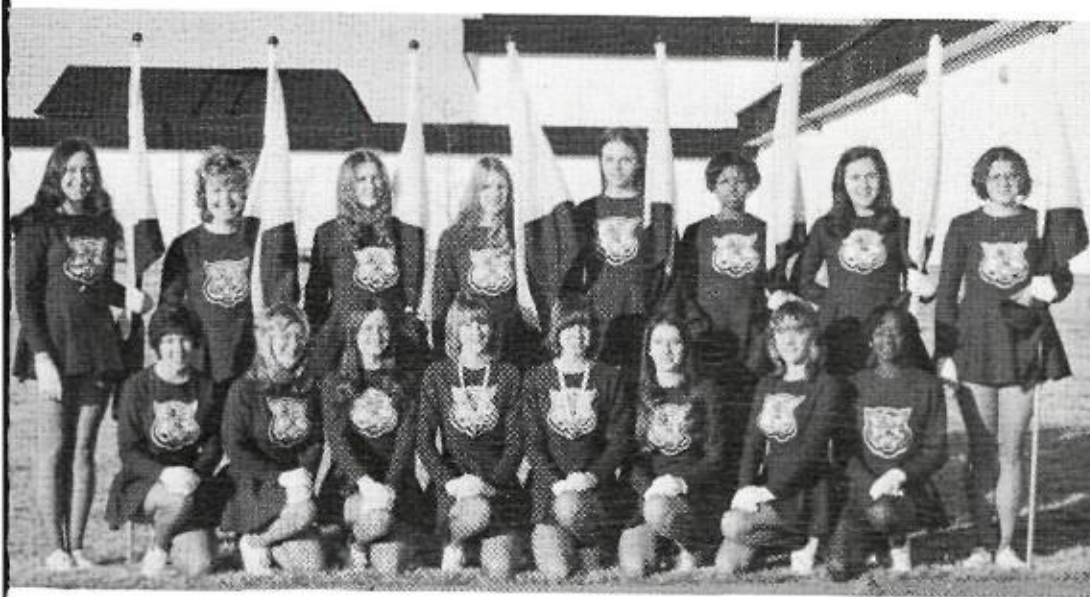

This year the flagbearers have participated in all the activities of the marching band. Besides marching with the band in U.I.L. marching contest for the first time, they performed with the band in the Cotton Bowl show and parade New Year's Day.

Many Things to Say

You say I'm young.

I admit,

I haven't done that much,

But I still have something to say

many things to say

as you did

when you were young

but now have forgotten.

I have many things to say

and do

and see.

And I'll say them and do them and see them.

I'll enjoy it at all times and hate it at times.

I'll cry sometimes with joy, more often with sadness. And I'll laugh sometimes.

I'll live,

and when I'm as old as you are now

I'll look back on the people who now

aren't even born and say

You're young,

You haven't seen enough

to say anything about life.

Denied

Peace and hope and Love,

Three I am denied

My love has been too great.

Yet, in the years to come,

I may look back

And see a fool,

Who bid and bragged his way into obscurity.

And I will learn my

Lesson of life,

Of goodness and kindness and love.

But, like a fool, I will forget

And hurt someone else,

The way, the same way

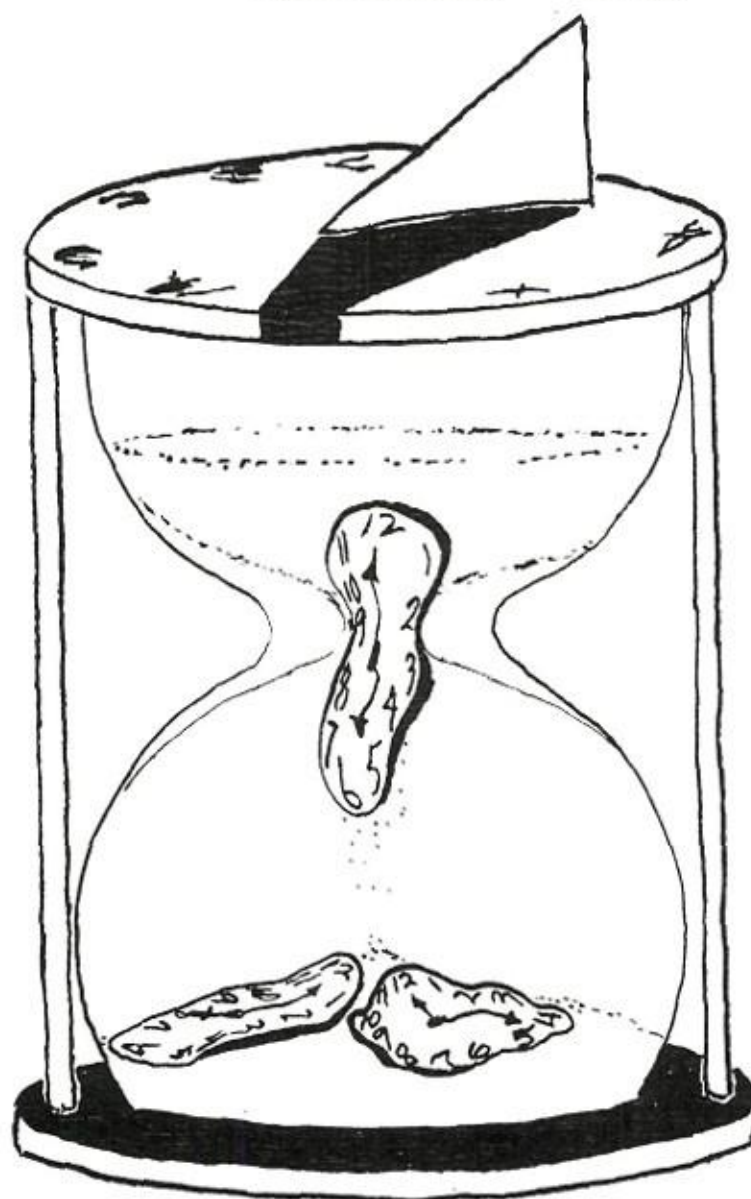

I hurt you.

Frank Edwards — Sophomore

My Time Is Today

My favorite time of year is any time that I can call today. Today really holds a certain amount of joy to know that I am alive and able to walk hand in hand with time. I can wake up in the morning and hear the birds sing as though each day says hello in its own special way. As the sun rises, Today is coming alive and is ready to give the world many things which we all shall remember. Today does not always hold the same moods by which to greet us. Some mornings we see clouds covering Today's face with sadness; yet, other days sunshine paints a bright smile on Today's face. When Today is happy care-free, and warm, we call him summer; when Today is colorful, energetic, and crisp, we call him Autumn; when Today is dark, lonely, and cold we call him Winter; and when he is coming alive with newness, we call him Spring. Today is many things but most of all Today is what we make him. Today can be our friend or our enemy; but no matter what he is, he is always present. We must learn to live with this amused present friend. Tomorrows are made of Today, and we must look forward to Today before we can look forward to Tomorrow.

Remembering

Late Evening Flight

A cottage sitting quiet,
Invites a bird,
On a late evening flight,
A resting place, to his delight,
He then continues
On in the night.

Free

On a spring morning bright and sunny,
A butterfly lit upon my hand,
His colors were deep and true,
Black, blue and a pastel hue,
I thought how sweet it would be,
To be so free.

Where Did It Go?

Time is in your hands,
The shape is your decision
You hold the tools to pattern it,
Your future is waiting to be molded.
Each scrap thrown away is just another day,
Just another hour lost forever.
Time is what you make it,
Time can be forever,
Or it can be just a minute longer.
Time is here . . .
Time is there . . .
Time is gone . . .
Time is before us . . .
Time is beside us . . .
Time is behind us . . .
It was here just a second ago.
Did you catch it?
Has it flown by?
Is it gone?

Laurie Lawlis — Freshman

I walked quite slow
All through the day
where I was going
I could not say.

I walked all day
for one special reason,
She had accepted my love,
in this summer season.

My face was a glow,
With a bright happy grin,
As I sat and I dreamed
Of the place I had been.

While sitting there thinking,
Thinking of her,
I thought of the good times
That would soon occur.

I dreamed but failed to realize that the sun was going down,
And so I started the long walk home
Still dreaming and listen to sounds.

Later that night I lay still awake,
Remembering that beautiful day.
I thought of seeing her beautiful face
And what I could possibly say.

And so to this day I'll never forget her
Although she no longer cares,
I remember her this way, this very odd way,
My love is like infinite stairs.

Hope Is All Things

Hope is many things, and that is why it is such an important factor in our lives. If we can obtain the gift of hope, then we have found the pathway to Tomorrow. Hope is a foundation for those who wish to build a mountain. If one has hope as his foundation then his mountain shall stand strong; when hope is lost, one loses his foundation, and should not be surprised if his mountain crumbles. Hope is the courage to face tomorrow and the courage to love, work, and experience the secrets of tomorrow. If we lose our hope then we lose our ability to love, work, and know the secrets that we must live by. Most of all Hope is the lamp which we carry down the darkened pathway of life. The pathway of life is often rough and troubled; along it be many secrets and terrors. One needs a lift to see the stones so that they may be stepping stones and not stumbling blocks. We must be able to see if we hear the sounds of a serpent or the tinkling sound from the springs of life. If we cannot see these things, then we may stop to be bitten by a serpent or never partake of living water. Those who have a dark life and cannot see tomorrow have lost the lamp of life, hope.

Catalogue Poem

These things I have loved;
The smell of baking cookies;
the fire that consumes itself; fall;
the comfortable aloneness of not being lonely;
golden scythe moons; the stars
against the velvet sky;
the longing for tomorrow and the loneliness for yesterday; life;
the forgetting of death;
my own pleasant madness;
candles burning in a dark room;
to be touched, to touch;
hot baths; cold mornings;
scratchy sweaters; comfortable blue jeans;
dogs, cats, any animal;
laughing till I cry; crying till the pain becomes void;
the wind laughing, pushing me about;
communion;
being young.

Our Heritage, Our Hope

Over this beautiful land,
Upon mountains, in rolling plains,
Roving the U.S. from sea to sea;

Hoping to find What?
Early traces of American History,
Reviving the Constitution, and Bill of Rights,
Into everything you delve, finding
Thomas Jefferson, Ben Franklin,
Abe Lincoln, without them where are we?
God was with these men, to sign
Every bill they passed to build a strong nation,
Our History is lifeless
Unless we strive to keep it alive,
Rescue past dreams and ideals,

Hold to traditions and customs,
Open our hearts and minds to
Peace and understanding,
Everything that will hold together,
Our Heritage,
Our Hope

The National Economy and Inflation

The year 1975 opened on a sour note of recession and widespread inflation. Plant layoffs and shutdowns jarred the nation as prices continued to soar, especially in the areas of food, gas, and medical treatment. Jobs got hard to come by, particularly for young high school and college students.

Private industry found it necessary to build up their sales, and the automobile manufacturers began to offer rebates as high as five hundred dollars. Sales immediately increased.

At this time, there are still many questions that need to be answered. It is up to us to find the answers while we grope to pull ourselves out of the recession. It just takes time.

Caught in the Current

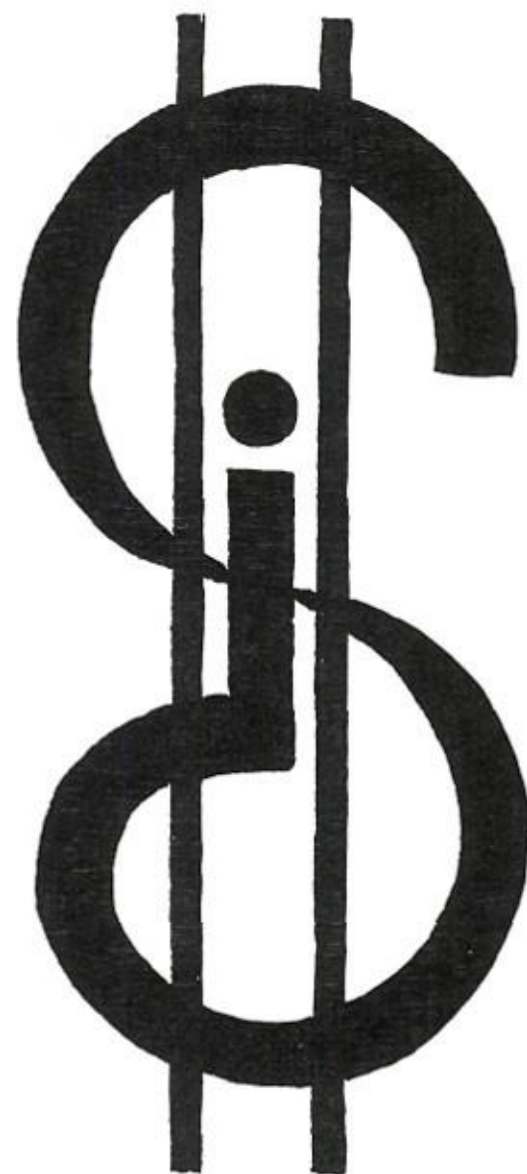

The beauty of the river held us spellbound in its rippling current. Four days spent traveling this particular river had proven to us that there are times when nature holds the upper hand over people.

As I lazily paddled downstream the current began to remind me of a gracefully moving lady. I watched her hair flow upon the distant bank and her face wrinkle as she quietly slipped around two rocks in midstream.

Contentment soon fell over me when I realized that in this lady's hands I was safe. And then, almost as to spite my very thoughts, the gentle lady became a roaring, churning devil. Her hands, once gentle, now resembled talons as she held the canoe in her swift current.

She grabbed the stern of my canoe and swung it around against a tree which was lying horizontally over the water. Fear gripped me as I realized that the canoe was pinned against the tree by the current. The waves lapping over the gunwale were slowly filling the canoe. Water weighted my shoes down like chains around a drowning man's legs.

Panic held me motionless as the splashing waves tipped the canoe more and more toward the churning froth. If the canoe were to tip over now, I might be sucked underneath the tree where underwater debris would hold me till I drowned.

My clothes were sticking to my skin as I sat there terror-stricken. Then the canoe could take no more of the river's savagery, and it went over.

Down I went, underneath the tree, and seemed like forever until I came up on the other side of the tree.

I was weak from relief, and my mind wandered back to those who had said, "It's the greatest feeling on earth."

Fashion

As times change, people change and fashions change. Yesterday's bell-bottoms and smock tops are making way for dropped hemlines and sweater sets.

Still, people dress to suit their personality and to fit the occasion. The way you dress influences how you feel and think and act. It is a way of improving yourself.

At Sherman High —

Hair is shaped to suit the individual.

Shoes are aiming for high places with platforms becoming prevalent.

Hemlines are becoming more flexible as skirts drop.

Baggies are gaining ground behind our old faithful jeans which still hold first place.

Sweaters are prominent, whether alone or in sets.

As things change, Sherman High School will continue to keep up with the world and fashion is just a part of it.

The Lighter Side of Fashion

With women's fashions, the rule is often that style goes before comfort. When buying a pair of platform shoes, one must suffer the consequences of walking in them. The big hoop earrings can cause trouble when they start tangling with the hair or getting themselves caught. If your backbone is totally stiff, mini skirts are fine since they do not allow any bending over. Midis, on the other hand, create all sorts of problems when you start running to catch the bus. Halter tops produce rope-like burns around the back of the neck. And although bikinis may storm up some stares, one cannot be expected to swim and dive in them when there is grave danger of loss.

Campus Nite Life

There's always something to do, no matter how dull a day might seem. Lake Texoma's at our back door and Highway 75 is a mainstream of recreation and fun.

You can water ski, swim, camp and have fun at Lake Texoma, or play a game of football at Fairview park, two places to cool off and get rid of some energy on hot summer days.

Bowling, miniature golf, skating, pin ball, the movies, plus the Mall are all on a ten minute strip of 75.

If you work up an appetite while you play, or just goof off, Jack-in-the-Box, McDonald's, Sambo's, Ken's and Hobo Joe's are just a few of the restaurants that would be glad to serve you.

After the games, everyone runs out to Ken's Pizza for laughs, good food, and just to be together.

Many churches sponsor recreation nights, and there is always something happening at the area schools; whether it be a play, varsity show, or a concert.

Open your eyes! You can always find something to do. Just look around.

Give Me Your Hand

When I first heard this title I didn't know quite what to think. After thinking about it for a while, I decided that there's one thing that really seems to yell this at us every day. That thing is our earth. Whether we like to think about it or not, the earth is really not in too good a shape. I mean what can you expect with air pollution, noise pollution, litter pollution, and over-population. The earth cannot really take care of itself. It depends on us. You could say that it yells at us every day to give it a hand to help protect it. The overall study of how we can protect it is called ecology. Basically, ecology is a subdivision of the science of biology that deals with the dependency and interaction between the earth's living and nonliving systems. All of the compounds, organisms, and elements are components of the biosphere — the part of the earth where life exists. Ecology is the science that interprets the biosphere.

Another definition stresses the origin of the word ecology, which comes from the Greek word oikos, meaning house. By this interpretation of the word, ecology comes the study of the environment and the ways that living things "House" themselves in it.

Another way of defining ecology would be as the study of ecosystems. Ecosystems are functional units resulting from the interaction between plants and animals and the physical and chemical components of their environment. It's been found that the most useful approach for solving the complex environmental problems facing us today is by ecological teams. These teams put together the knowledge and skills from many different scientific fields.

Today's ecology is mostly applied. Plants, animals, and micro-organisms are manipulated in their environments to achieve a desired result.

After hearing all the facts about ecology, most people's main question is — What can we, as average citizens do about it? Well, we can all start off by not being so wasteful. It's been estimated that per person, there's 5.3 pounds of refuse gotten rid of per day. This costs the United States a total of around $2.8 billion a year to get rid of it. Just think, if we didn't have to spend all that money getting rid of trash, taxes would probably be lower. If we didn't get rid of so much trash, not only would we be helping save the earth but we would also be saving the money. There are many other ways we can help save our environment. Remember, even the smallest act that we do to help stop pollution of any kind, takes us a bit closer to stopping it.

In closing, I'd just like to say that we've got to do it. We've got to give earth a hand and give our environment because this is the only earth we've got. The world's come through in tight spots before and I feel that once we're completely banded together, we will save our environment.

Mike McCord — Freshman

As an old year passes and a new one comes in, if you should desire to think back in 1974; do you think it was a good year for you or your country? With all the government problems, unemployment, energy crisis and inflation problems, one might say it was a depressing and humiliating year.

Now we have a fresh new start at a fresh new year. Here is our chance as an individual, city, country, state and nation to make better the way that we have destroyed, hurt and yes, even physically torn down our beautiful world. If every one came together and put their minds, souls, and bodies to use to help one another think of all that knowledge we'd have.

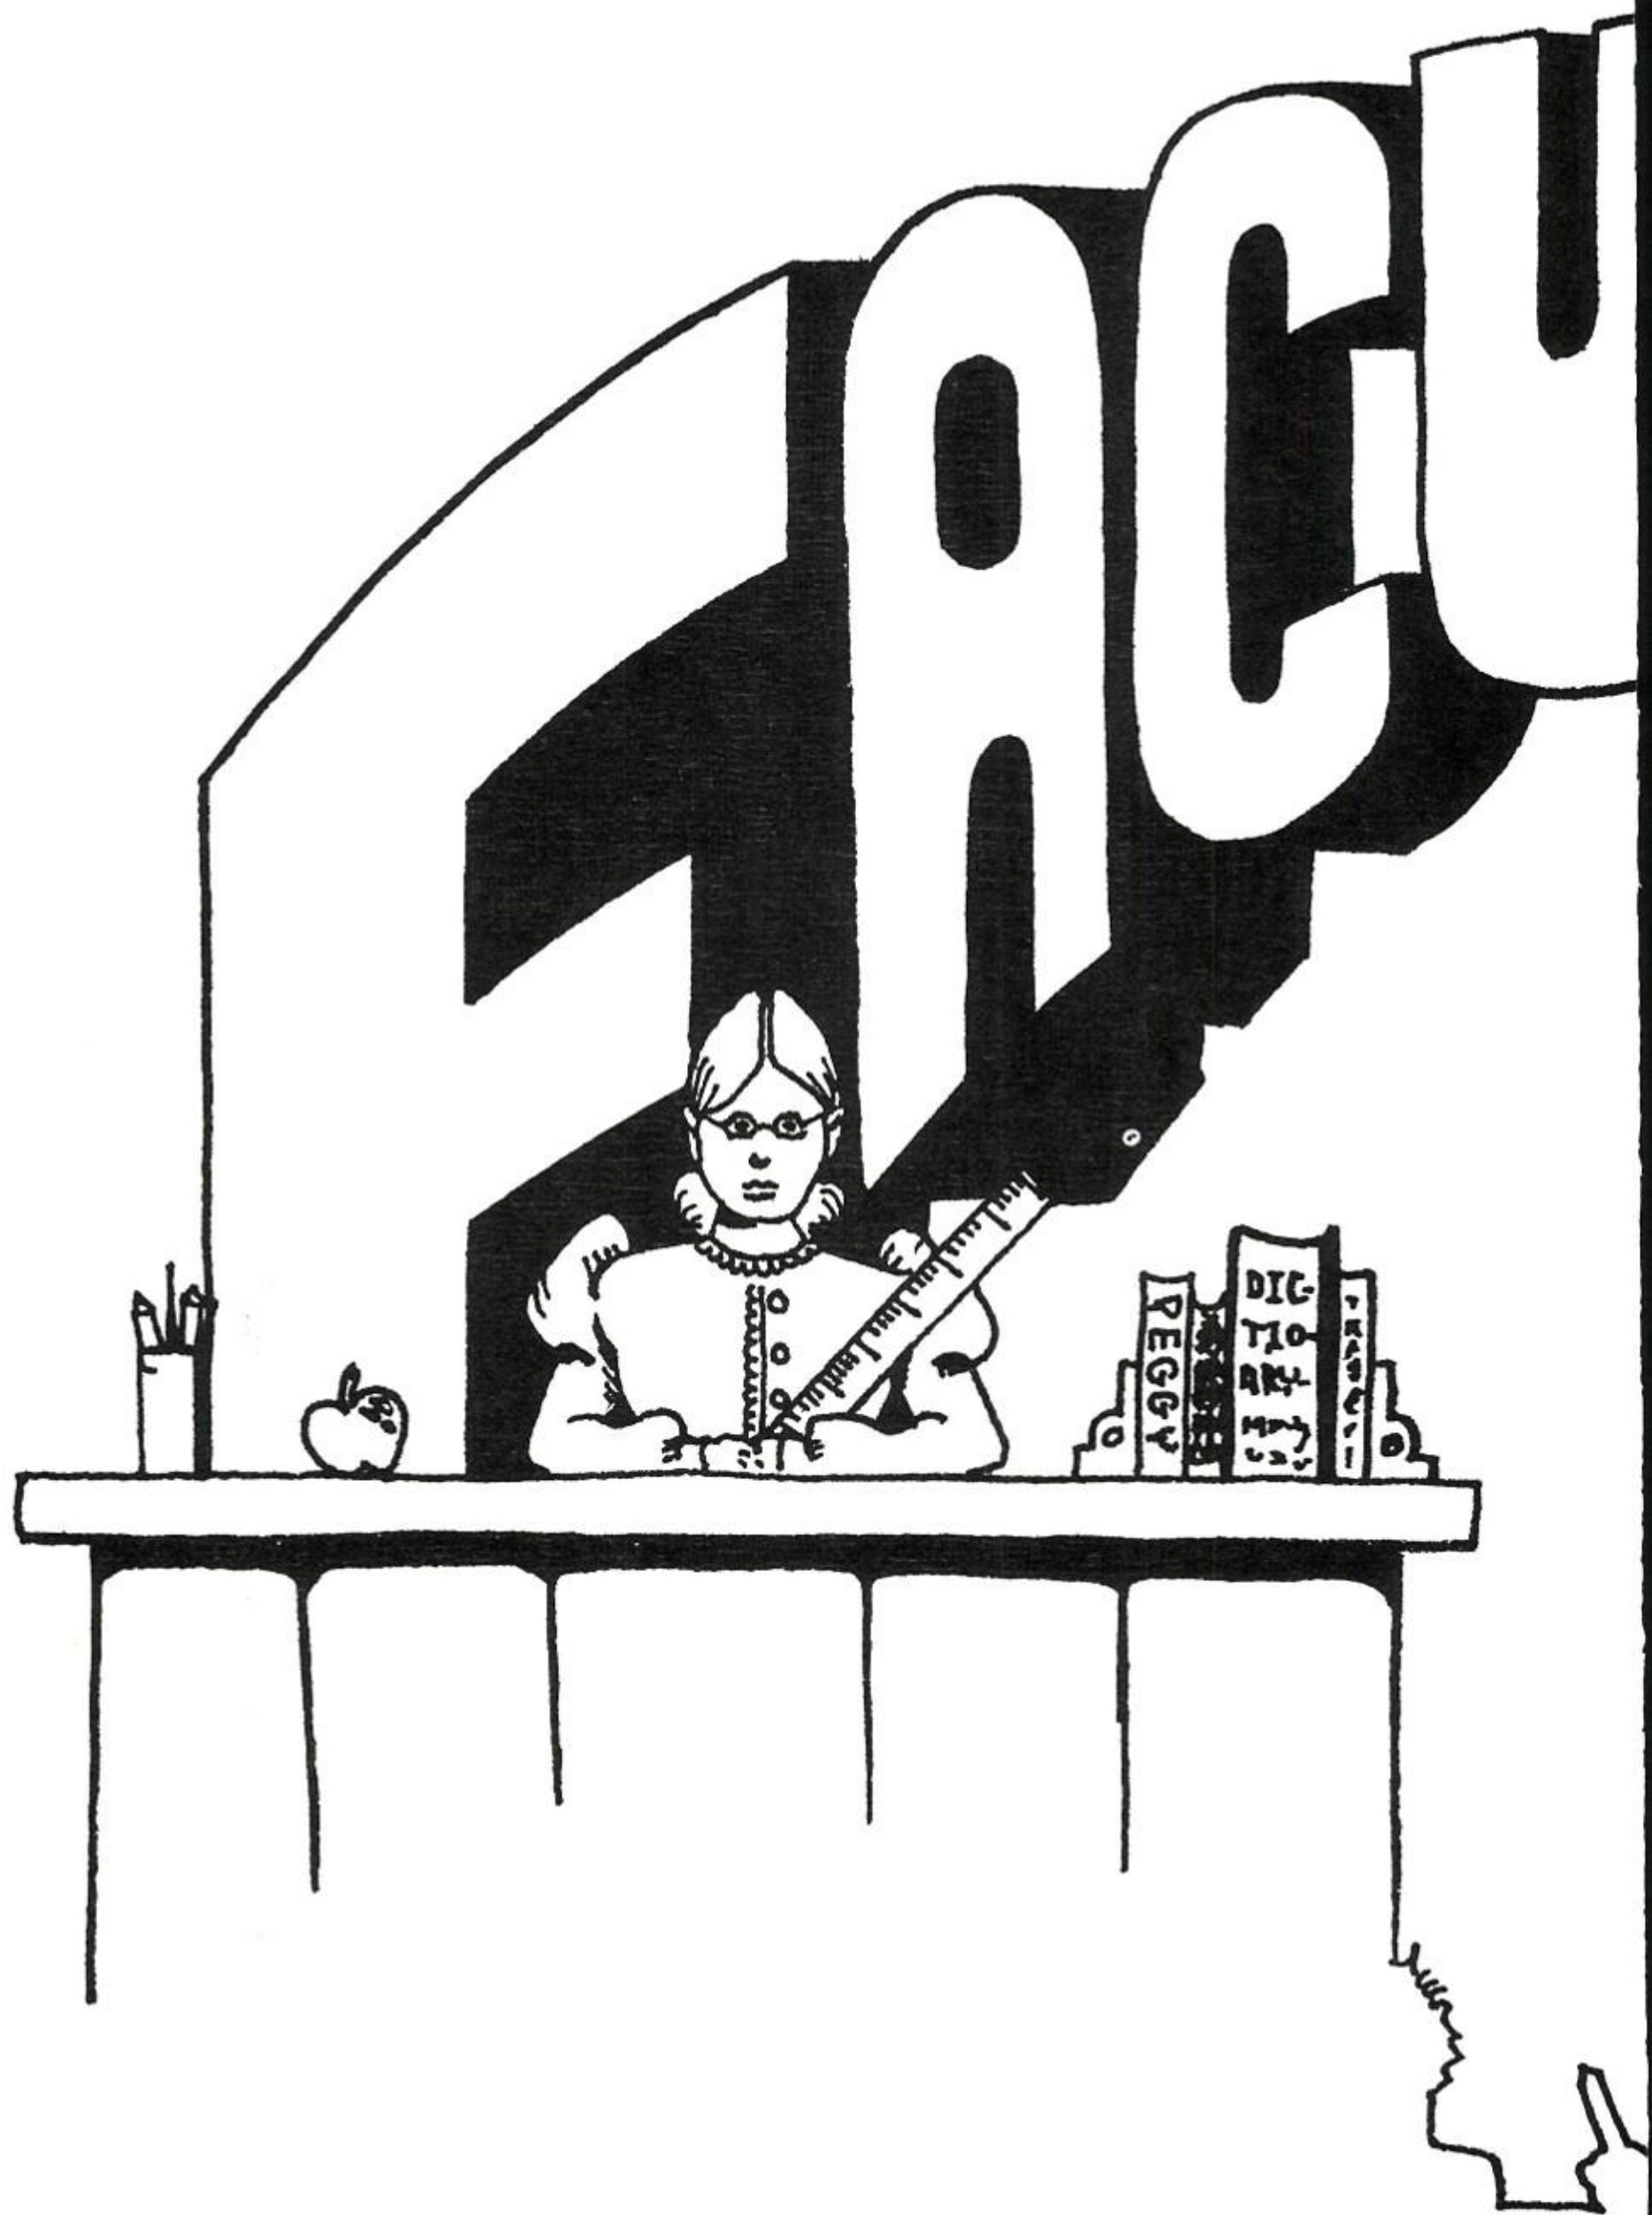

Knowledge, the world needs it. It is described as a condition of knowing as far as the mind can know. As a sponge seeps up water, a mind can seep up knowledge.

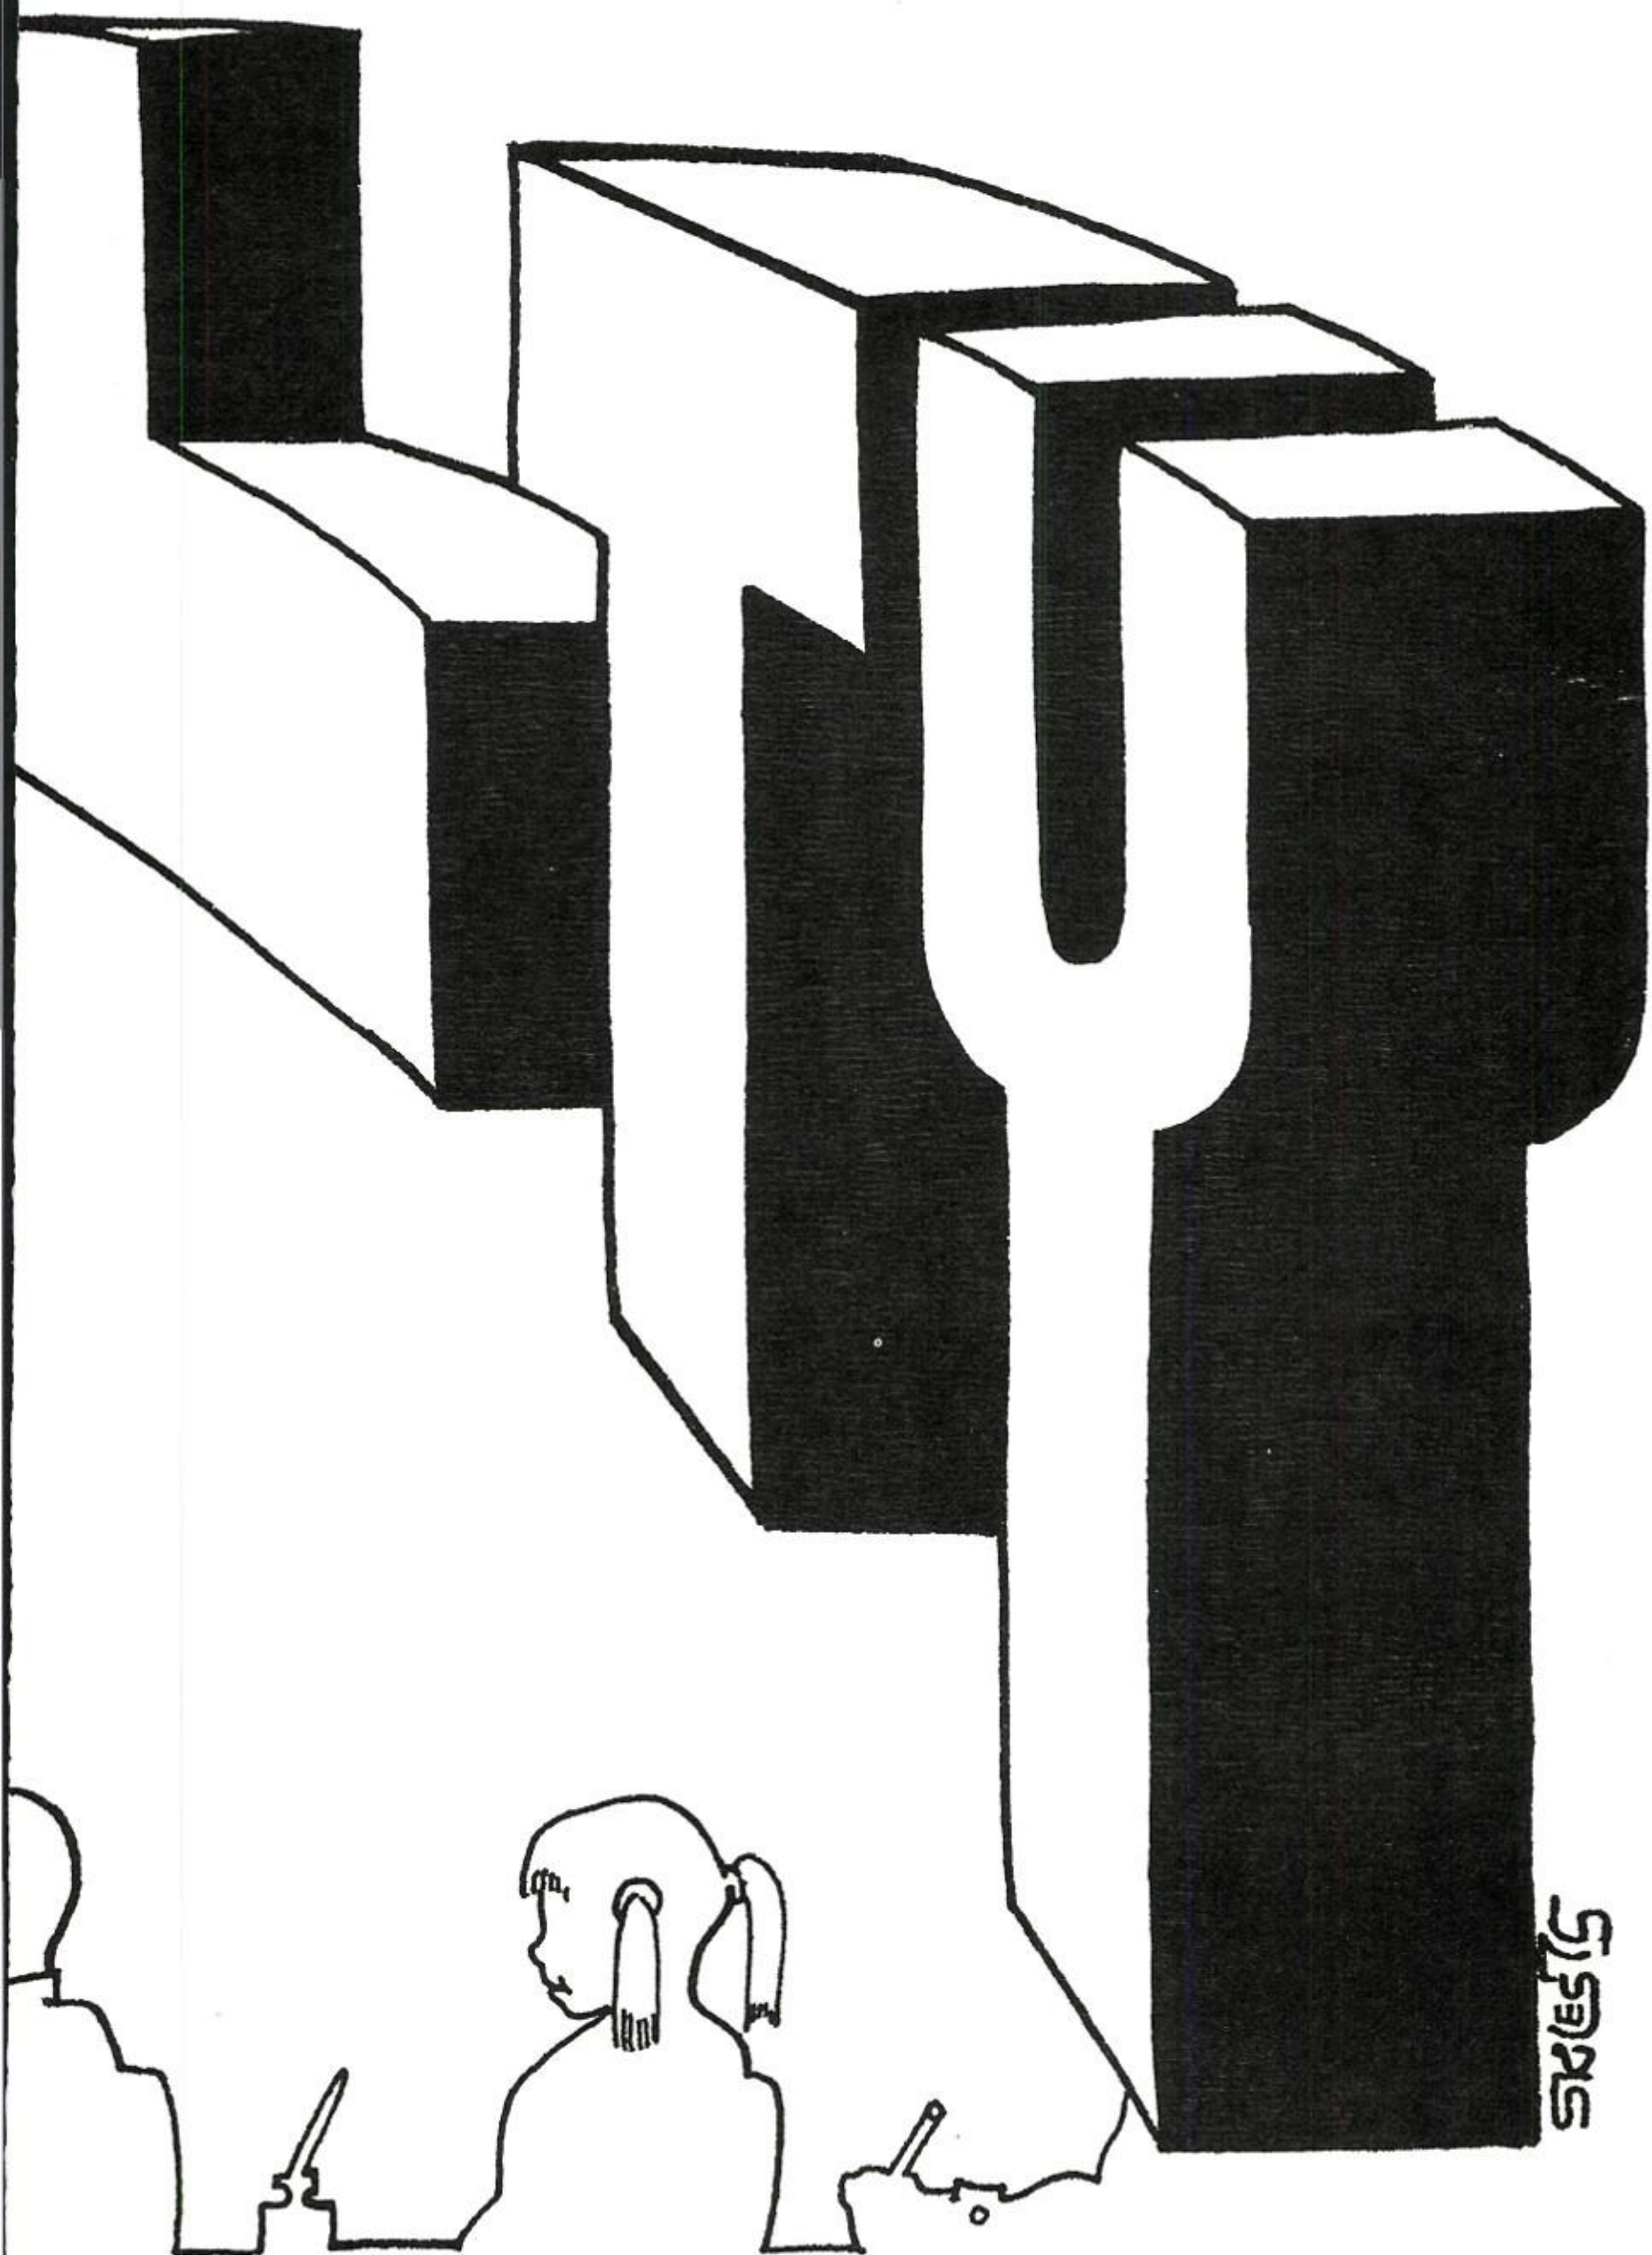

Women are a majority of the population, but everywhere they are saying something about not having rights they want to be equal to men. Women are strong, they have the right to want equality but who listens to us day after day? This is narrow-mindedness; not listening to others. Narrow-mindedness pertains to many blacks, whites, Mexicans, and many lands.

Unemployment is being caused because of prejudice which is caused by narrow-mindedness. Unemployment is so bad that some people are paid more being unemployed, than those being paid that are employed.

Have you ever thought how lucky you are to have hands, or see, or hear? You are very lucky. Take a person who doesn't have what you do and help them; don't worry what people will say or do. It's a pattern. We are the leaders of this plan. Shall we fight, shall we lead or shall we fall back. No we'll fight for what we believe, and help another nation in distress to build and work; we'll say, "I've learned the hard way, I'll help you my way, God's way and our way. I'll lead you "give me your hand."

School Board Guides Students

The purpose of the School Board is to help and guide the student. It makes very important decisions that affects the student's school life as well as community life. The Board is a policy making body for the governing of the public schools. Input from students, parents, teachers, and other professionals helps the Board in arriving at its decisions. These are the main duties and functions of the School Board:

Its primary duty is carrying out the will of the people in its district in the matter of public education.

The Board is responsible for establishing, maintaining, and appraising the educational system of the district.

Though the Board has the exclusive power to manage and govern the public schools in its district, this power is subject to all mandatory state and federal laws dealing with public schools.

School System Molds Lives

The purpose of our school system is to make every student know that he is really important; that he is somebody and has a job to do. He must make reason supreme and dominant over every coercive force in every walk of life, no matter what field he decides to enter.

Our school system shapes and molds lives every day. It is imperative of the welfare of our students that the system be worthwhile, for if it proves to be useless in your lives, then we have accomplished nothing and wasted our time. It is our hope that each and every one of you will make a positive contribution to society and that the Sherman Public Schools enabled you to make this contribution.

It is important to us that the school help you to develop the understanding and the power needed to keep our economy productive and to keep democracy working in the years ahead as well or better than it has worked in the past. The responsibility rests on your shoulders. I firmly believe you are capable of accepting this responsibility.

Principal Encourages Students to Become Involved

All of us have matured in one way or another this year. We've come so far and we're still going. That's the way it should be. We must not sit back and let the world slip away. We must adapt ourselves to meet the future in an ever-changing world.

I wish for you the best of everything while you're here and as you leave to pursue your dreams. Each of you carries with you a piece of Sherman High. Some of you hide it, but some of you let it shine through. Let it shine. Take it out and polish it. This school is what you make it.

I believe you have the potential to make those high school years the best years of your life. I encourage you to get involved in what's happening now. Make the most of your talents. We need you, and being needed is a wonderful feeling with many rewards.

I will always have a warm place in my heart for you all. God bless you.

The school is rich in these things because of the students. These are the things that make life interesting. These are the things that make Sherman High a pretty good place to be.

Things That Went Wrong

Colored pictures didn't turn out for deadline.

Photographer didn't take pictures.

Photographer couldn't find pictures.

Had to do fifty pages in one day.

Organizations didn't want pictures taken at specific times and places.

Coaches forgot to tell teams about pictures.

Photographer was late and in the wrong place a lot.

Advisor flew the coop and Editor left the country.

Staff had conflict of interest.

Staff number reduced.

Typewriter went on sick leave.

Ran out of Quad-Pak copy sheets (twice).

Someone stole individual club pictures.

Ran out of mounting board, grease pencils, darkroom supplies, techni-croppers, and stamp pad ink.

Missed December deadline, January deadline, and February deadline.

Photographer watched football games instead of taking pictures.

Advisor and Editor lived on hamburgers, Dr. Pepper, and little, if any sleep for two months.

Every deadline a fire drill occurred.

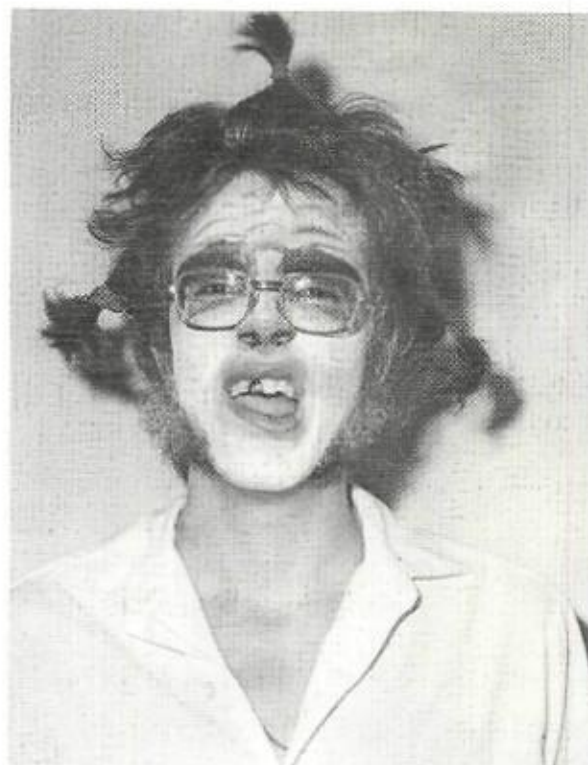

Too many duplicate pictures.

Carbon sheets fell out of Quad-Paks.

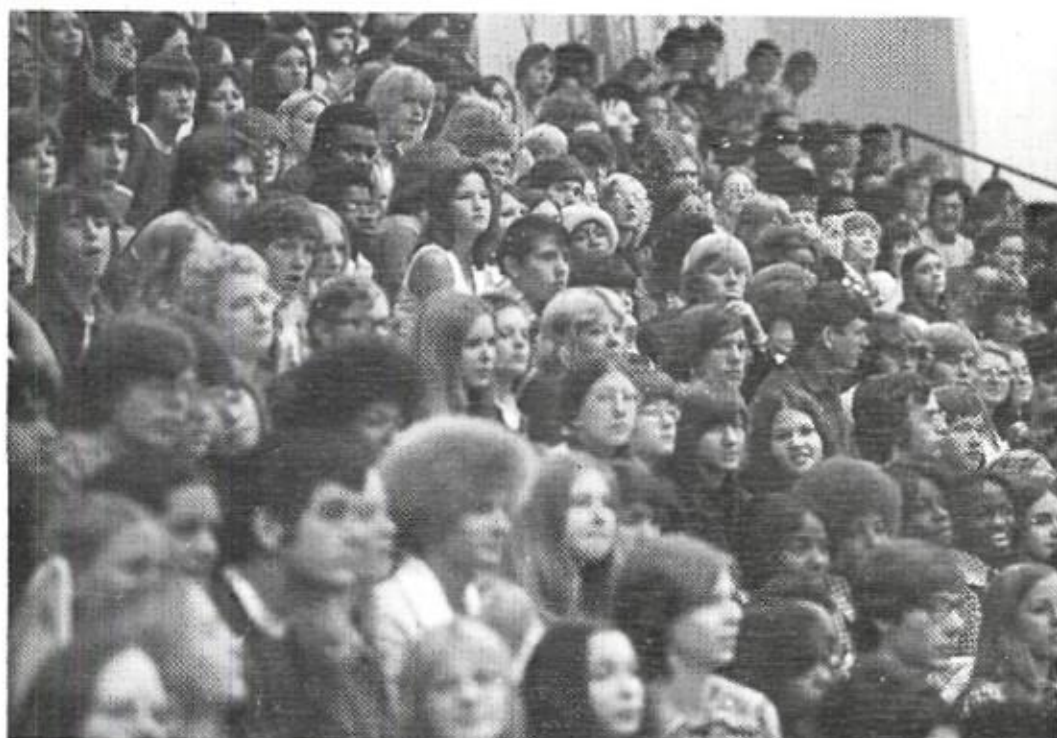

Had to use two sizes of Quad-Paks.

Someone stole Homecoming pictures.

But with persistence and sheer exertion, we give you the 1975 Athenian.

Paul Rider enters Ugly Man Contest.

Friday pep rally brings many reactions.

David Linson plays in the mud.

Coach Jerry Cantrell wonders what the conversation is all about in the halls.

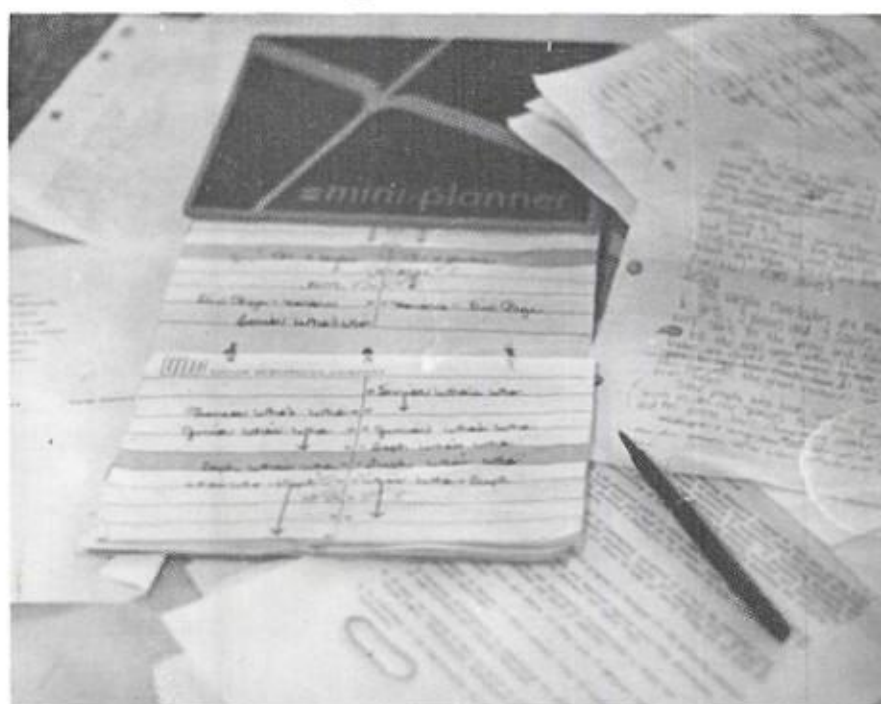

Jill Joiner finds classes and outside activities do get heavy.

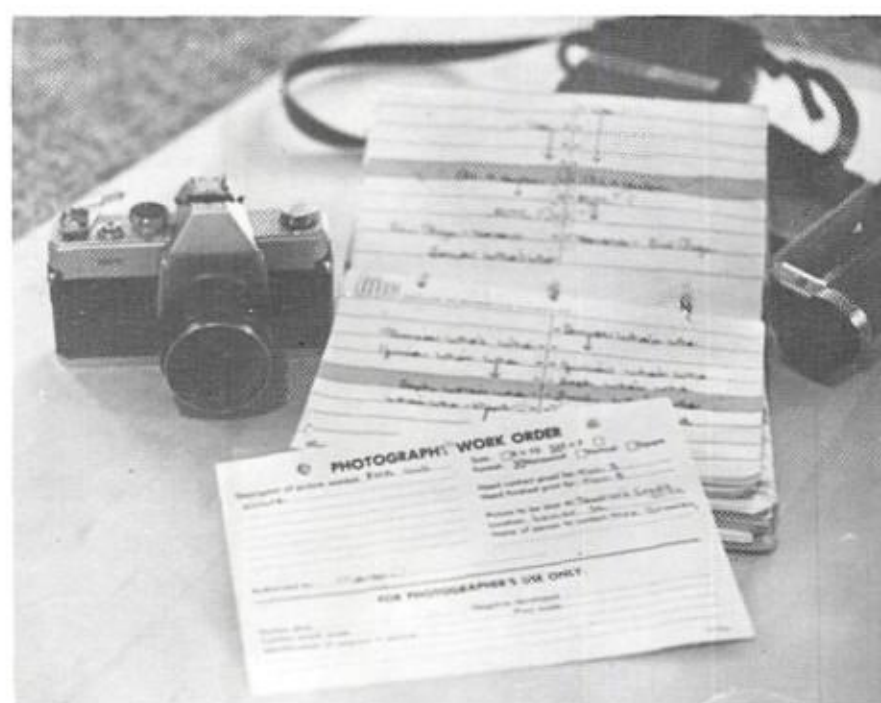

Students Unaware of Printing Process

Long hours and hard work have gone into the preparation of this yearbook. We hope you like it but we know it's impossible to please everyone.

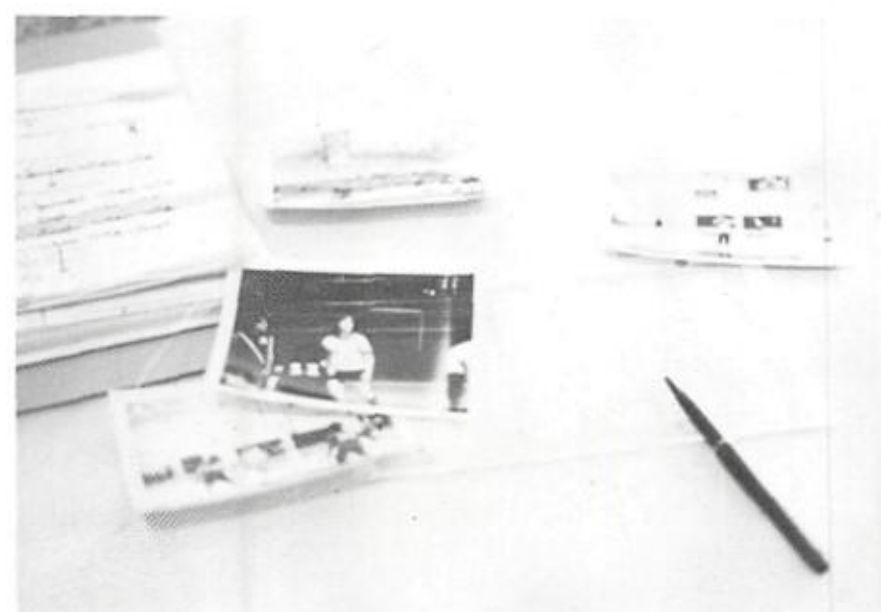

Many different things are involved in putting out a yearbook. The first step is to conduct a meeting of the staff to consider ideas for putting the book together. Next you must plan the pictures and copy for each page and fill out a Ladder. A Ladder is a plan of the book page by page. After that you must make Dummy sheets or practice layouts. A Layout is a diagram of the page — two pages at a time — showing where both pictures and copy are to be placed. You must also make appointments for pictures. After all, pictures make the yearbook. Next you must prepare your Rough Drafts. Rough Drafts show the layouts as they will be in the yearbook. Then you must transfer the layouts to Quad-Paks. These are just like rough drafts except they have carbon copies and they are eventually sent to the publishing company. After this the photographs must be cropped, this means cutting out unwanted portions of the pictures. Then they must be stamped, on the back, with the job number of the school. This is so if the pictures are separated, they will know which school they belong to. Now the copy, headlines, and cut lines must be written. Each Quad-Pak must be marked where the copy is to be placed. Now the copy is ready to send to the Taylor Publishing Company.

Step 1 — Fill out Ladder.

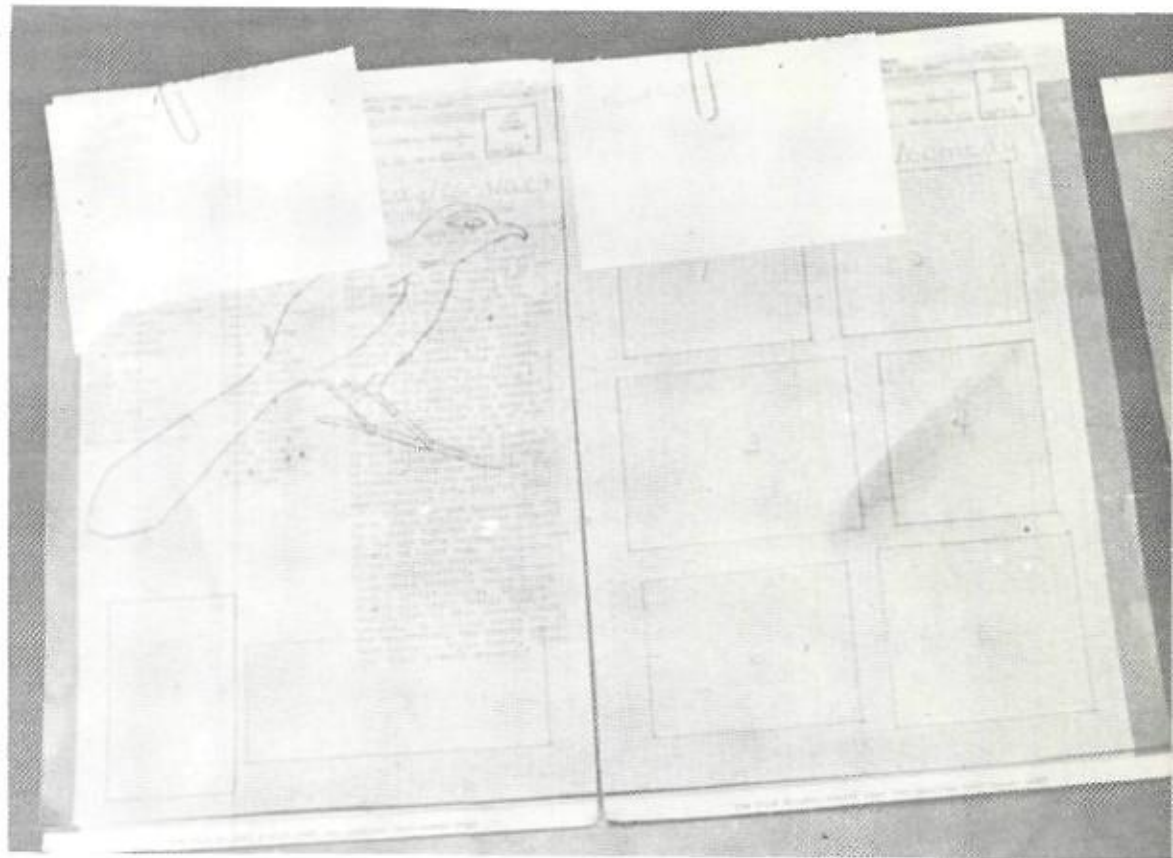

Step 2 — Make picture appointments.

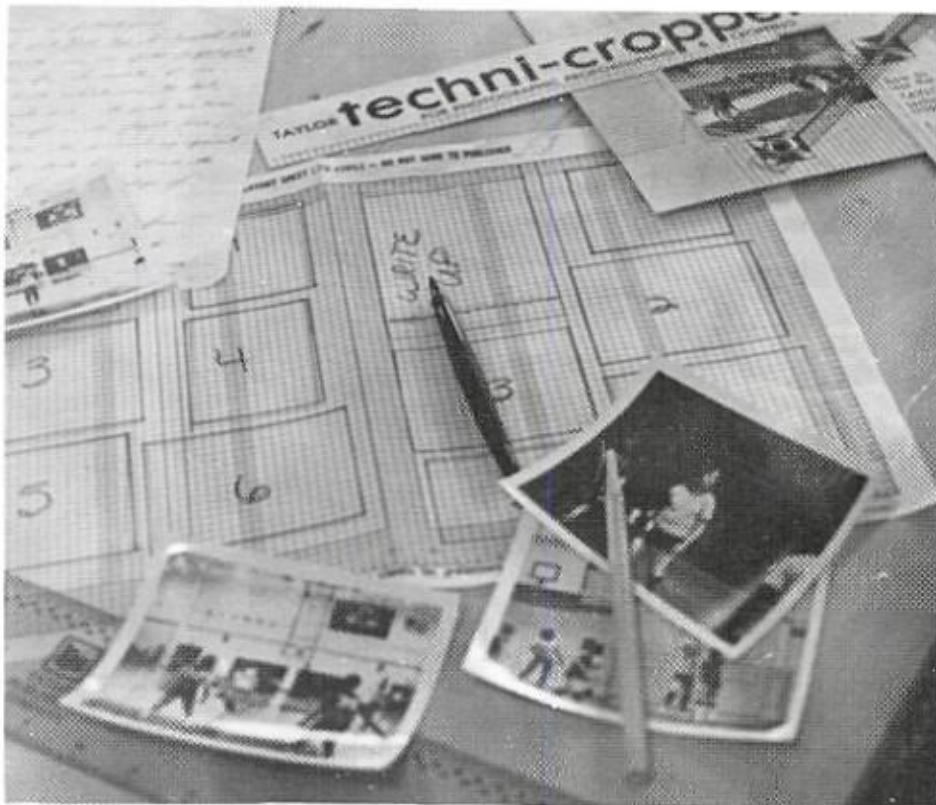

Step 3 — Draw practice layouts.

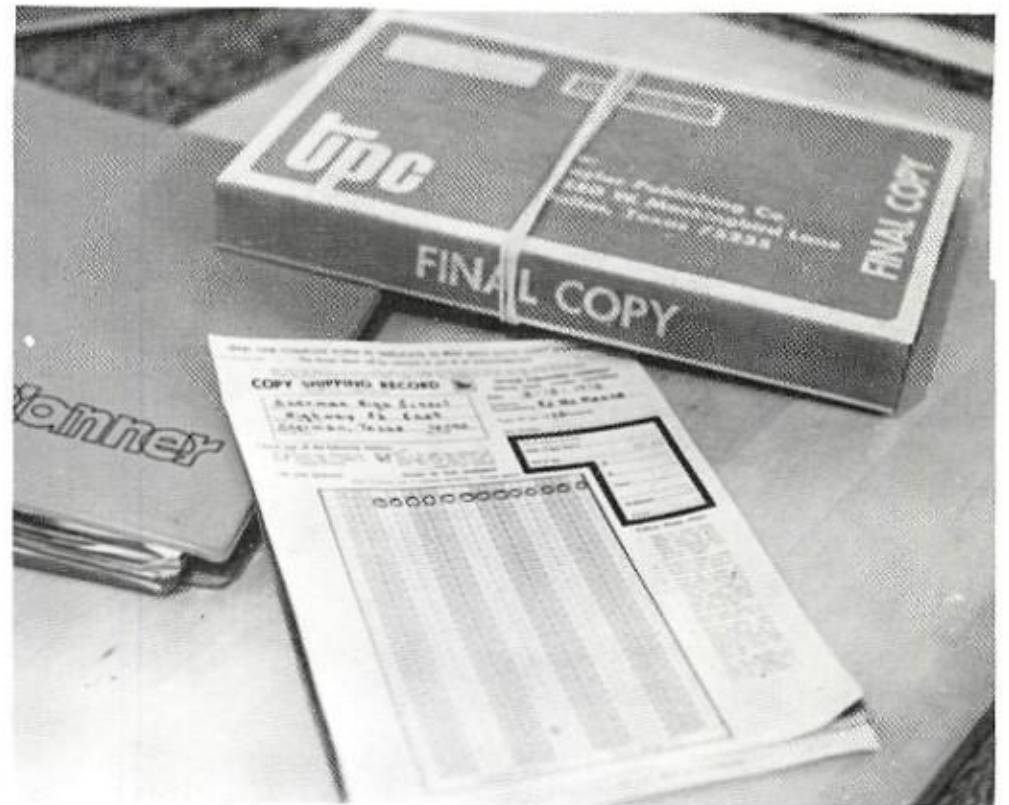

Step 4 — Crop pictures.

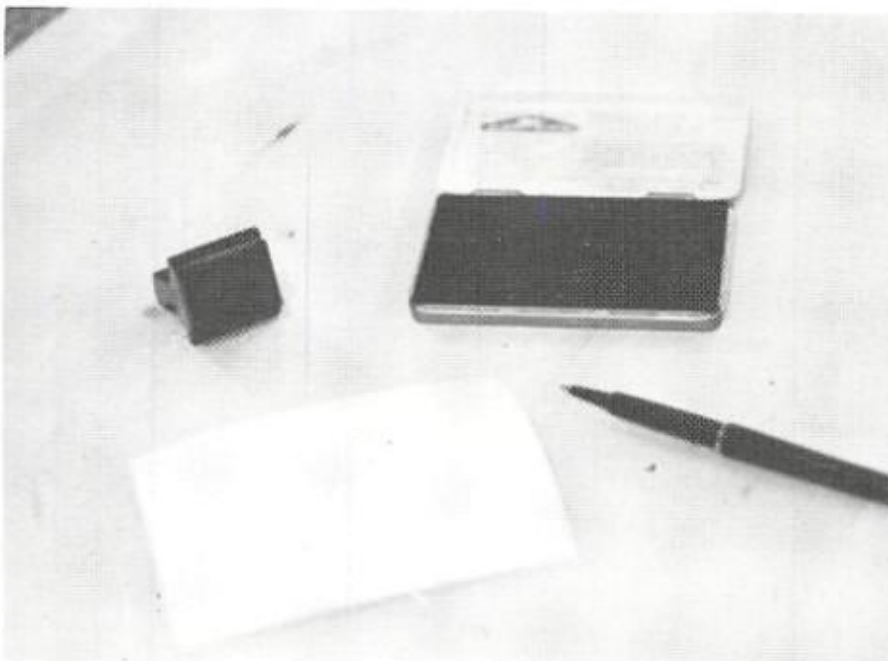

Step 7 — Draw final layout.

Step 5 — Draw rough draft.

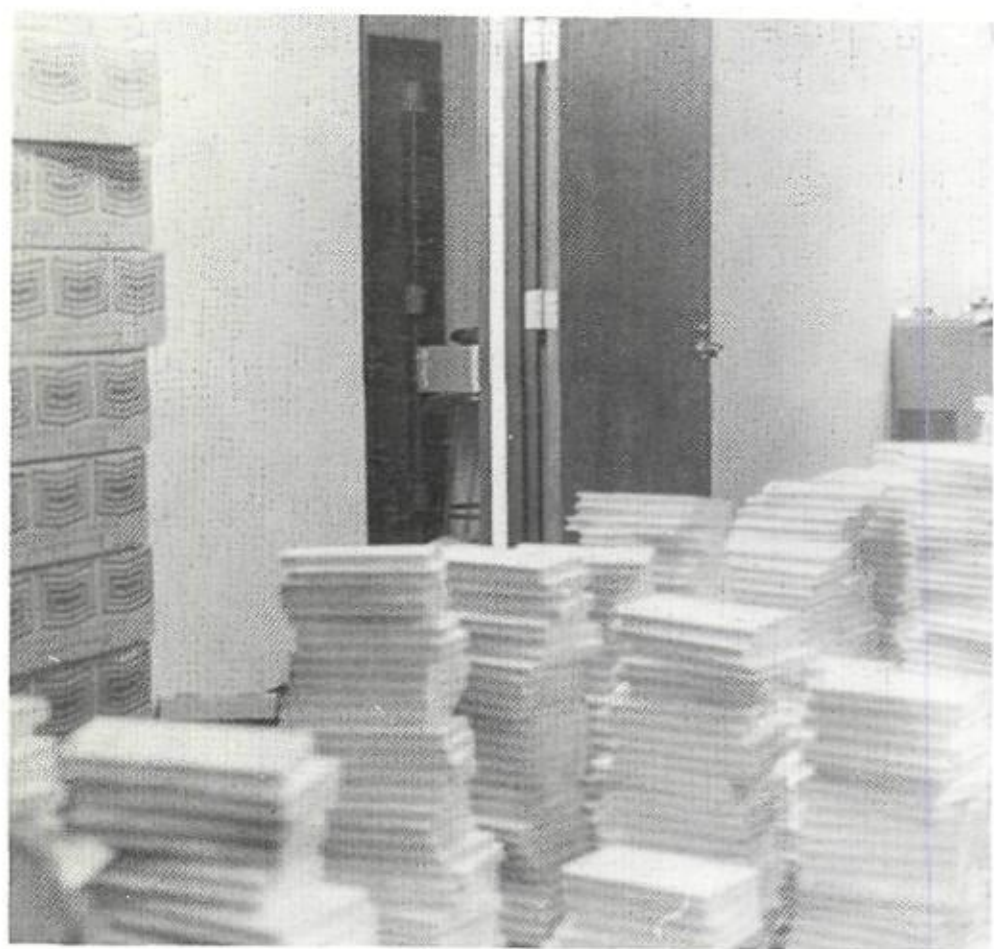

Step 8 — Fill out copy shipping record and prepare copy for mailing.

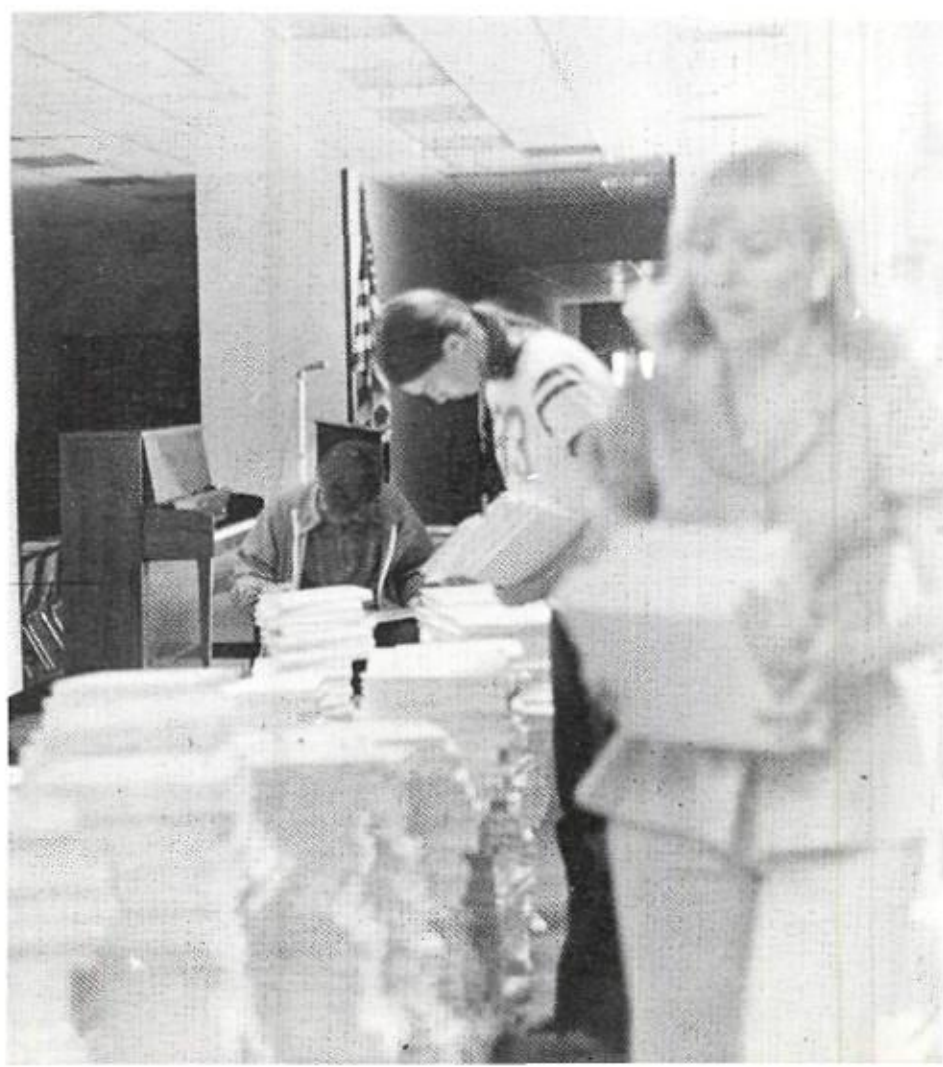

Step 6 — Stamp pictures.

Mrs. Paula Morgan and Linda Willians ponder long line of books in hall.

Halls filled with 1300 Athenians.

Mrs. Paula Morgan and Linda Willians arrange Athenians in alphabetical order after their arrival.

Patty

Well, the year's almost over and I can really say it's been fun! I can't believe we're almost seniors! I'm glad I got to know you this year and I've enjoyed having you in history. I wish you could've stayed in our art class!

Always remember me and the fun times we've had! Good luck in the future, you deserve the best!

Love in Christ,
Debbie Martin
